MAN'S PAST--AND FUTURE?

SIR ARTHUR KEITH LOOKS BACK AND FORTH ON THE HUMAN RACE.

MACHINERY OF MAN'S EVOLUTION, AND CERTAINTY OF HIS PROGRESS.

The British Association assembled in its thousands on Wednesday, September 23, in the heart of the Empire, with General Smuts as its president, to celebrate the centenary of its birth, writes Sir Arthur Keith in the London News Chronicle. Its members may legitimately pride themselves in what science has done since the first meeting was held in York a century ago, but it was not by trumpeting past achievements that the Association made its appeal to Londoners, and through them to the outside world, but by sober announcements of what it hopes to do before another century is over.

And yet, if we are to forecast what Science is likely to accomplish for mankind in the coming century, we must keep an eye on what it has succeeded in doing between 1831-1931.

The Unravelling of Man's Past.

The transformations which will be effected in the world of our great-grandchildren by Huxley, Faraday, Kelvin, Parsons, J. J. Thomson and Rutherford I shall not touch on, but confine my forecast to that branch of knowledge I am most familiar with—that which deals with Mankind.

What is man's past? What is his future? These are the questions which interest me.

In 1831 it was generally believed that man had no past. Since then we have succeeded in building up a calendar of the prehistoric past which carries human history back over a period, not of 6,000 years, but of 600,000 years or more.

Our prehistoric calendar is as yet a mere outline, but if knowledge accumulates at the present rate it will be, a century hence, as detailed and exact as the time charts of historic England. We have searched only a small part of the earth as yet, and have found the fossil remains of a few of the strange human beings who lived in long-past times; we have also discovered the crude tools they fashioned. A hundred years hence, when geologists will have ransacked every part of the earth, we expect our successors to be in possession of an array of fossil forms sufficiently complete to reveal the exact manner in which Man made his progress from the kingdom of the brutes.

That man has made this exodus we have full evidence, but it is our successors who must determine the exact time at which it occurred; the stages by which it was accomplished, and the nature of the "pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night" which brought man out from the bondage of the jungle.

That these problems will be resolved by the time our great-grandchildren are in control of affairs I have no doubt. My confidence is based on the rapid rate at which our knowledge of the living, growing, human body is now being advanced. We are finding out the factors and forces which control the development of the human embryo and which regulate the growth of the child's body.

The uninitiated would never guess that the cause of cancer and the cause of man's evolution are parts of the same great problem—the problem of growth.

Yet they are. Cancer represents an unregulated growth of a part of the body; evolution represents an altered growth of the whole body—an altered regulated growth spread over thousands of generations.

The day will assuredly come when we shall be able to regulate growth—both malignant and benign—so efficiently that cancer will be prevented and evolution will be controlled. Such is the goal towards which we work, and at no distant century our successors will attain this goal.

Such optimism is justified by a survey of the amazing progress science has made in the past century. In 1831 the compound microscope was being invented. The application of that instrument to the human body revealed the fact that we are made up not of "textural," as our great-grandfathers thought, but of microscopic living units. The human body is a huge colony; we have just finished the first rough survey of the units of this vast colony by the improved microscope of our time. A hundred years hence it will have been re-surveyed by "ultramicroscopic" methods, and much that now seems to us so mysterious and inexplicable will be explored and explained.

MAN'S PAST—AND

A little over a century ago the human egg was seen by the eye of man for the first time, and now we know most of the changes which transform the microscopic egg into a completed human being. Nay, we have begun to solve a great mystery—the mystery which so changes the egg, stage upon stage, until all parts of a child become visible. At each stage substances are produced which bring about the transformation into the next stage.

It does seem possible that our great-grandchildren may, if they should so wish, bring forth their progeny in humbly contrived incubators! I am quite certain, however, that no incubator will ever be invented which will equal in efficiency, reliability, and economy that which Nature has already placed in the body of every woman. Nature has safeguarded the human cradle in a thousand ways to the end of man's appointed period. Unless will be filled as they are today. Science cannot hope to improve on Nature in this respect.

The Physician and Surgeon of The Future.

A century ago both Pasteur and Lister were still in their boyhood. Small-pox, syphilis, typhoid, and typhus fevers, phthisis, cholera, malaria, with all pests and plagues, were mysterious afflictions. They were often regarded as dispensations of Providence. Their causes are now known and methods for their prevention discovered.

Sir Astley Cooper trembled as he removed a wen from the scalp of George IV.—so much did he fear the onset of wound infection. The modern surgeon operates with impunity on every part of the human body.

All of Sir Astley Cooper's patients had literally to "feel" the knife; now we have a hundred ways of giving painless sleep. The surgeon of the future will effect his cures, not by operation, but by prevention.

"The more we learn of the nature of disease the more do we realize that the best form of treatment is prevention. As science advances, the dream of a world freed from deformity, sickness and disease becomes more and more a possibility."

At the meeting of the Association in London we heard much of the many advances now being made by physiologists. Physicians have placed in their hands instruments so delicate that they can record the messages which pass along nerves, to and from the brain. Such discoveries open up the possibility of measuring the elaborate processes which go on within the nerve units of the brain—the processes which underlie consciousness, feeling and thought.

What Can Science do for the Future of Mankind?

But what of man's future? What has science to say, not of the men and women who will be in our place a century hence, but of those who will be carrying on the affairs of the world when a hundred centuries have sped?

It was at one time a fashion among scientific men to picture the man of the future as a being who had become all head and no body, and who lived on spiritualised energy. I will not deny that there is a tendency to produce a type of highly civilised peoples of to-day, but sober science is realising more and more that human nature is amongst the least changeable of human qualities.

Man will ever struggle on towards perfection, but in the struggle victory will go to those who still retain the animal qualities which find enjoyment in mundane appetites.

The Future of Eugenics.

And yet, if man should so desire it will be in his power to alter all the elements of his mental and bodily nature.

At this present time we are learning how to control the growth of the human body; we are also learning how the mind and body of a whole nation or race could be changed—very they to decide that such a change is desirable.

We have as yet merely mastered the barest rudiments of the effects produced in modern civilized societies by the unfettered working of the laws of human heredity and there is reason to fear that they tend to produce not a higher but a lower type of mankind.

Hieretofore man has permitted nature-made laws to work out his destiny. Under Nature's rule man has risen to his present estate. The conditions of life become more and more man-made.

Are we to continue as the humble slaves of Nature, leaving our fate in her hands, or are we to find out her secrets—the secret processes by which she brought about the ascent of man, and having mastered her methods use them for our own improvement?

Without doubt that is one of the goals towards which science is reaching.

Man is to take his fate more and more into his own keeping.

TRIUMPH OF GIPSY
ORCHESTRA.

TZIGANES AT THE KIT-CAT.

Eighteen gipsy musicians, led by an Argentinian, have made themselves famous within six months.

For it was not above six months ago that Alfred Rode formed his Tzigane Band. Since then they have triumphed on the West-End variety stage and at a Royal Command performance.

Now, in cabaret, the gipsies and their leader promise to become even more popular. Their appearance last night at the Kit-Cat, where they will play for a season, was an overwhelming success.

As an orchestra pure and simple Alfred Rode's Tziganes are superb. They play gay tunes with a swing, a rhythm, a fiery perfection that makes the blood tingle. They play sentimental ones with a skill which makes evident the fact that each member of the band has dedicated half a lifetime to the mastery of his instrument.

It has, for example, taken the tall Rumanian gipsy who plays the sweet, sure notes which delighted the Kit-Cat patrons last night.

Showmanship.

But if you gather from the foregoing that Alfred Rode and his Tziganes are purely and simply an orchestra, you haven't, as the talkie characters say, heard the half of it. Style and showmanship combine with musical skill to make this band's performance a complete entertainment in itself.

Their gipsy clothes please the eye. Rode himself, handsome as any film hero, conducts them with, for baton, the bow of his own violin, on which at appropriate moments he plays a dramatic part or two. Now and then the bandmen add their voices to the strumming of the guitar, the tinkle of the cymbal, the thrub of the violins and cellos.

The band is at its splendid best, I would say, in the "Blue Danube" waltz, introduced by a few rhetorical notes from the leader's fiddle. London is never likely to hear a finer performance of this stirring music.

Alfred Rode and his Tziganes are, in fact, one of the most striking cabaret attractions, the West End has known.

French, Belgian, Hungarian, Russian and Rumanian gipsies are among them, but they play together with an enthusiasm and a freshness which should make Rode and his showmen-Tziganes a draw at the Kit-Cat for a long time.

CONSUMPTION HAS BEEN CUREDA REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION HAS BEEN FOUND.DR. P. TONKERMAN, DISCOVERER OF THE NEW REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Marylons as it may seem after centuries of failure, a remedy has been discovered that has cured the deadly consumption even in the advanced stages of the disease. No one will longer doubt that Consumption can be cured after reading the proof of hundreds of cases cured by this wonderful discovery—some after change of climate and all other remedies tried had failed, and the cases had been pronounced hopeless of cure. This new remedy has also proved itself effective and speedy in curing Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and other serious throat and lung troubles. In order that all in need of this wonderful product of science may test its efficacy for themselves, Dr. P. Tonkerman has been formed to give it to the world, and a Free Trial Treatment can be obtained by writing to Dr. P. Tonkerman, Ltd. (Dept. C, 287) 118/120, Fleet St., London, E.C.4, enclosing 6d. in British Postal Order to cover cost of carriage and packing, and mentioning this paper. The trial treatment will then be sent by return mail carriage paid.

ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Do not wait if you have any of the symptoms of Consumption, if you have Chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Fains in your Chest, a Cold on your Lungs, or any trouble on Lung Trouble, write for a free trial treatment and book of instructions, and benefit yourself before it is too late.

Keep the Doctor away by the occasional use of EVANS' PASTILLES. They protect your throat and give relief in cases of colds, coughs and catarrh.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Aro sin, disease, and death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 11th.

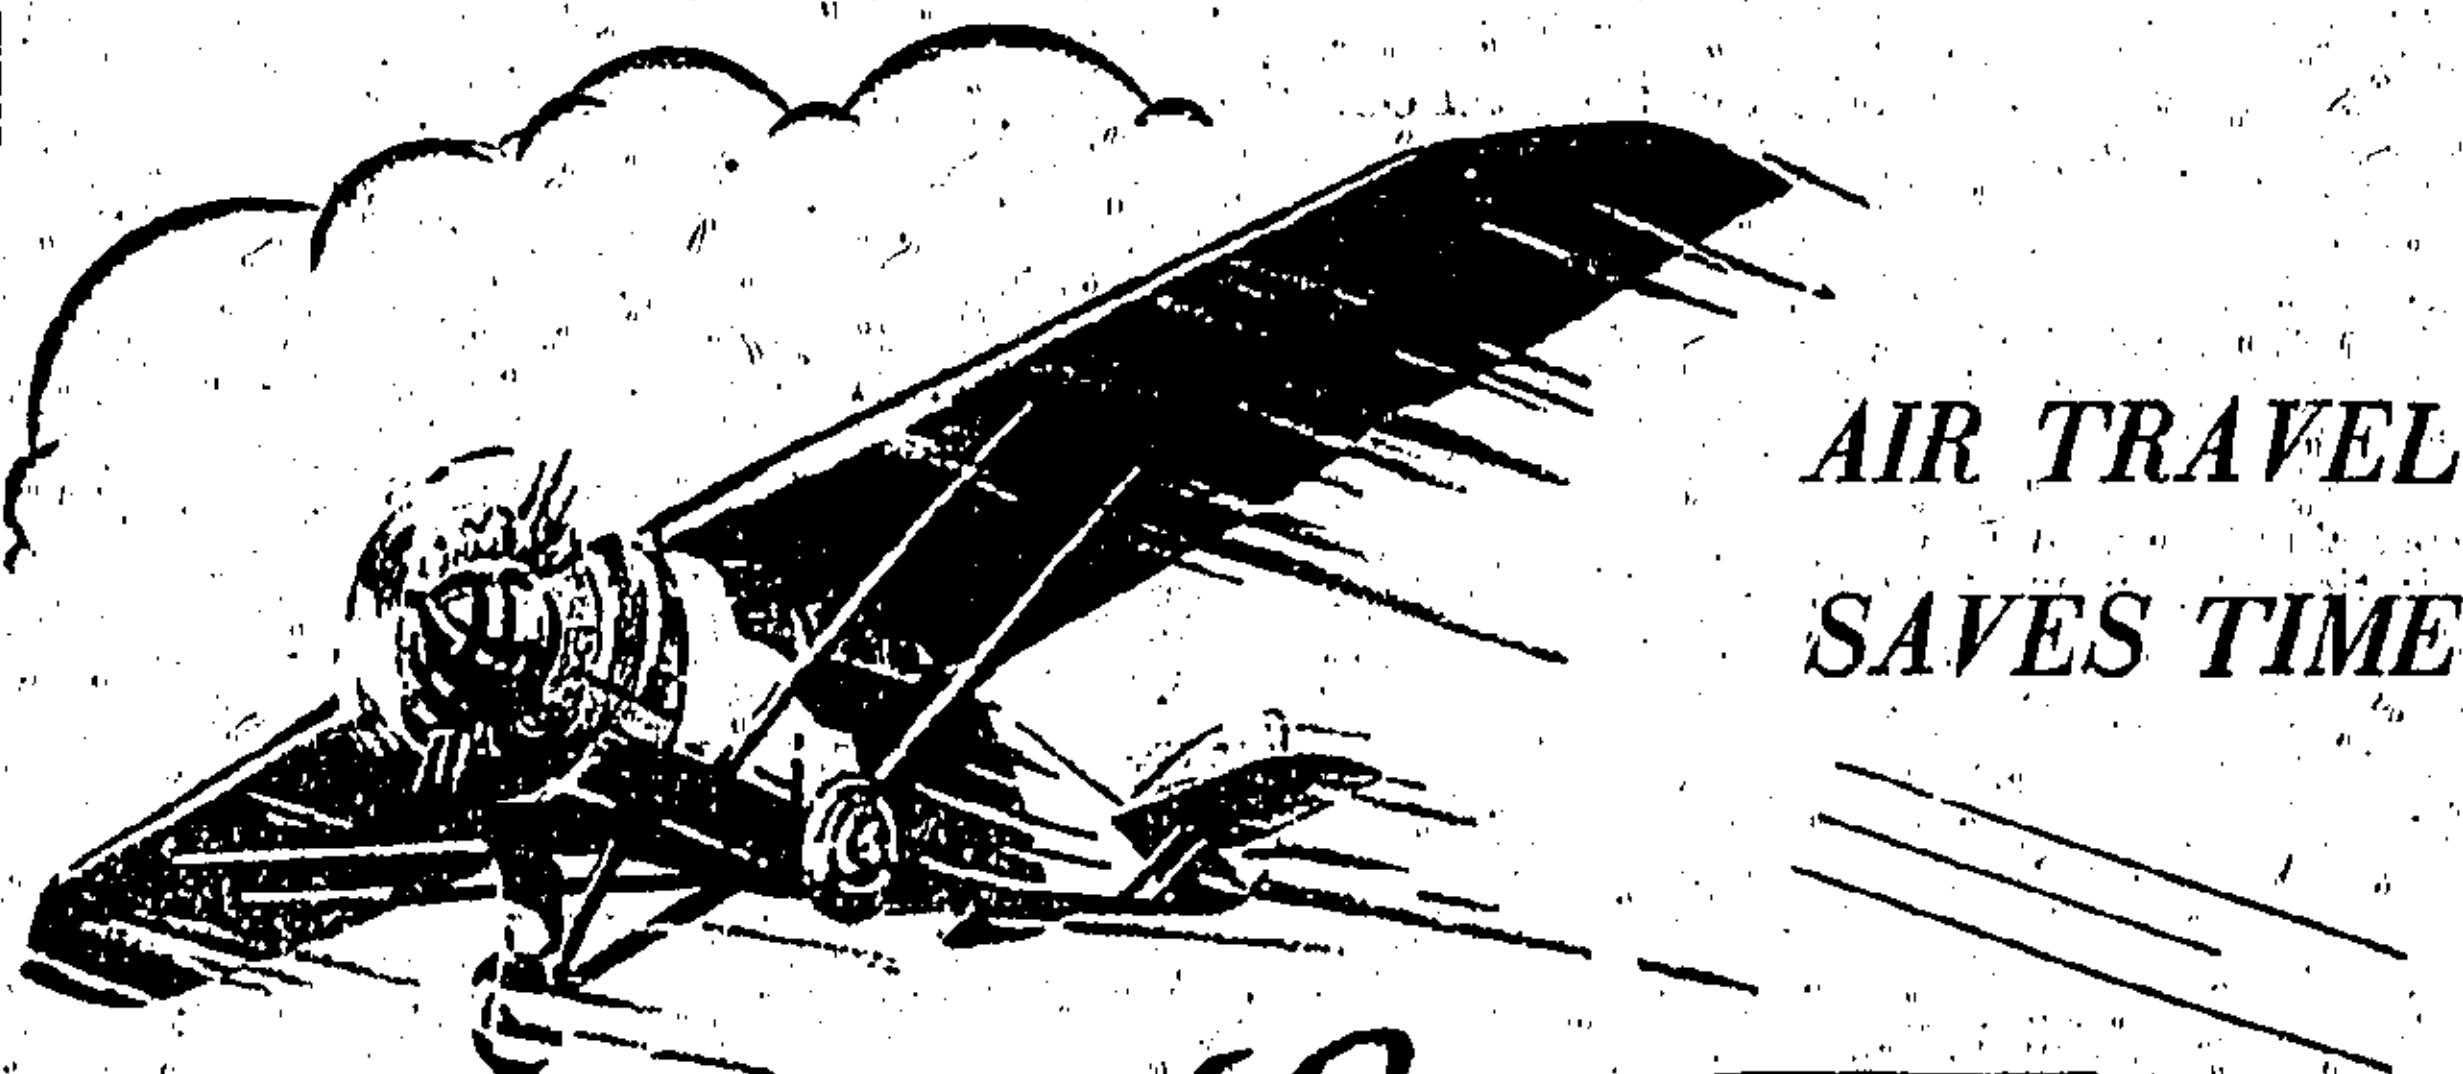

The Golden Text was,—"God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations." (Ps. 67: 1, 2.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:—"Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine holy one? we shall not die. Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity." (Hab. 1: 12, 13.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:—"God is as incapable of producing sin, sickness and death as He is of experiencing these errors. How then is it possible for Him to create man subject to this triad of errors, man, who is made in the divine likeness? (P. 258.)

Mr. Julian Wylie, who is producing the play in conjunction with the Shuberts, announces that of the cast of 190, 16 will be British. They are due to arrive shortly.

THE SILVER SCREEN.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

"REACHING FOR THE MOON."

Edward Everett Horton, who plays an important and sparkling comedy role in Douglas Fairbanks' latest picture "Reaching For The Moon," with Belle Daniels, showing at the Queen's, is a native of Brooklyn, New York.His first professional engagement was with a travelling company presenting "The Mikado," but his real start was given him by Louis Mann, with whom he remained several years as stage manager and supporting player.In 1910 he made his first appearance in California, and has been on the stage or screen in Los Angeles ever since. In 1923, he became an independent producer at the Vine Street Theatre, continuing there and at the Majestic Theatre until 1930. Screen contracts made it inadvisable to continue doing both stage and screen work, and Mr. Horton has since given all his professional efforts to the screen.His first film was "Two Much Business," made for the Vitaphone company in 1921; the same company made "A Front Page Story." Other successes were "Ruggles of Red Gap," "To The Ladies,"
"Marry Me" and "Beggars on Horseback," all made by Famous-Players-Lasky. "The Terror,"
"The Hotentot," "The Aviator," and "Wide Open," made by Warner Brothers; "Once a Gentleman," "A James' Cruise production," and "Holidays," made by Pathé.
"Reaching For The Moon," which opened at the Queen's Theatre yesterday, gives Horton a splendid comedy role. It was directed by Edmund Goulding for United Artists, with Belle Daniels playing opposite Douglas Fairbanks.

"ONE ROMANTIC NIGHT."

Lillian Gish is through playing unsophisticated heroines in motion pictures. Neither will she essay further screen characterizations that call for pursuit of canny birds around bushes, the wringing of hands and the crying of glycine leaves.The slender United Artists star, whose first talking picture, "One Romantic Night," comes to the Queen's Theatre next Sunday, provide in this, her first picture in two years, that she is through kissing doves and love birds on the screen and is now definitely settled on a new career of forceful, modern roles.In "One Romantic Night" which Paul L. Stein directed, the star plays the role which Eve La Gallienne created in the first American presentation of Ferenc Molnar's play "The Swan" in New York.
In the supporting cast with the star are Rod La Rocque, Conrad Nagel, Marie Dressler, O. P. Heggie, Albert Conti, Edgar Norton, Billie Bennett, Philippe de Lacy and Byron Sage.

KING'S THEATRE.

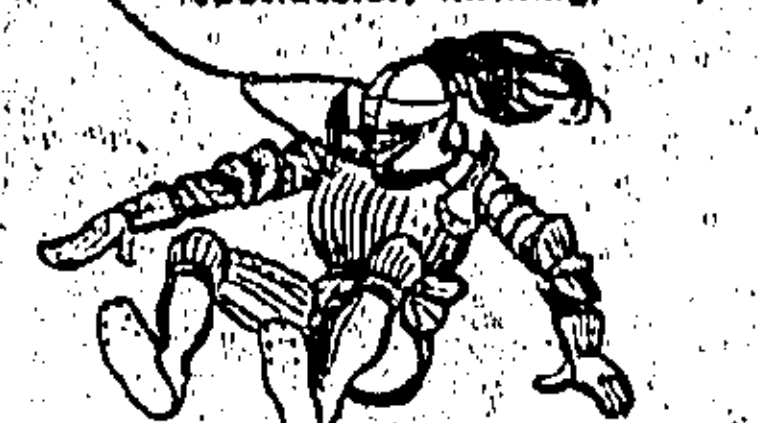

"A CONNECTICUT YANKEE."

Will Rogers, the famous American stage and screen humorist, has without doubt caught the true spirit of his illustrious compatriot, Mark Twain, in the picturization of the latter's classic extravaganza,
"A Yankee at the Court of King Arthur," which for some reason the producers have seen fit to change to "A Connecticut Yankee." Whatever the name, however, the picture is a splendid vehicle for Rogers' peculiar wit and the audiences at the King's Theatre yesterday were kept continuously convulsed at the adventures of this typical 20th century Yankee in a 14th century environment."A Connecticut Yankee" should not be missed by all those who enjoy a good wholesome laugh.

IRISH MASKED RAIDS.

FARMHOUSE ROBBED AND DANCE STOPPED.Belfast, Sept. 11.—Two parties of masked men carried out raids in the Ulster counties of the Irish Free State to-day.Three armed men raided the farmhouse of Matthew Nulty Drummery, Denn, Co. Cavan, and got away with a considerable sum of money. They imprisoned the housekeeper in a stable and then returned to the house, one of them keeping guard over the owner in his bed room.While a dance was in progress in Aghabog, Co. Monaghan, masked men entered the building, ejected the dancers, helped themselves to the refreshments about to be served, and destroyed the furniture.KING'S THEATRE

226-MILE RACE.AND THEN BACK TO BED AGAIN.GREAT TRIUMPH FOR AN INVALID.The history of road racing is rich in the matter of daring episodes, but never has a race been won in more heroic fashion than was the Junior Grand Prix over the mountain course at Douglas,
Isle of Man.It was contested over a distance of 226 miles by forty-one riders, whose machines were restricted to a cubic capacity of 350 cubic centimetres.D. J. Pirie, a young London architect, last year's winner, retained the trophy, at an average speed of nearly seventy miles an hour.So much for cold facts. The manner of Pirie's triumph was astounding.Face Heavily Bandaged.
During practice Pirie crashed badly and was taken to hospital.
It did not seem possible that he could take part in the race. He had not qualified because he had not completed the necessary number of practice laps.He got up from his hospital bed and astonished the officials by turning up for final practice. He accomplished the two laps which were necessary to qualify, and went back to hospital. There he was administered for his reckless disregard of the possible consequences of racing, his condition, but, though he was elided, he was also admired, and this morning he was given permission by the doctor to race.

And how he raced!

With his face heavily bandaged, he set a pace which outstripped the rest of the field. Collecting records as he went, taking no heed of the hazards which already had caused him disaster, he blazed a trail which took him to victory.It was not until the third lap of the six which constituted the race that he took the lead. In the first two circuits two young salesmen, E. N. Lea and A. L. Hodgson, were ahead of him, but Pirie beat all records for the course at over 71 m.p.h. to assume the leadership.

Head-First Into Wall.

Having done so he began to shake off his pursuers who in the hectic chase which followed crashed all round the course. They fell at Quarter Bridge, at Ballacraigne, on the hairpin bend, at Ramsey, and at the sinister milestone, a gruesome signal which is painted red to amplify the warning which it carries.One after another the riders set off in pursuit of the flying Pirie, and one after another they fell.J. H. Waire, a Cambridge undergraduate, overtook Quarter Bridge in his too reckless haste, and went head-first into the granite wall. His crash helmet saved him, and he was only slightly injured.H. E. Newman, of Harrow, crashed at the same spot, and, keen to proceed, was stopped by the doctor on duty at the bridge because he was in no state to race on.H. J. Whelan, of the Royal Air Force, overshooting the corner, at the bungalow, rode straight into the hotel before he could stop.
J. C. Wilkinson got into a dreadful speed wobble on Bryn Hill, slid along the road for thirty yards, and came to rest within inches of a granite wall.

Collapse at Finish.

But Pirie never faltered until the end. He held the lead from the time he first gained it, and dashed over the line—a winner by nearly five minutes.Then he collapsed utterly.
It was as though the great urge which had maintained his physical strength had with its departure left Pirie nothing on which to rely, for having stopped his machine he fell into the arms of the officials, and was there and then taken back to hospital in an ambulance. The will to win had supported the physical inequality of an injured hero, and taken him to victory.Later, in an interview, he said:
"I must have gone round the course for force of habit. For the last thirty or forty miles my brain seemed in a maze. I had bouts of dizziness and at times I could not see the road properly."Never has a race been won so amazingly. A man had left hospital, had raced for over three hours, and had collapsed and gone back to hospital triumphantly defending a trophy which was his. It was heroic and perhaps a little foolhardy. But young Pirie stands among the heroes of motor-cycling, and his great ride is a fine example to British boyhood of pluck and fortitude.

SAFE ANESTHETICS.

FOUR DEATHS IN 21,000 CASES.The rarity of deaths under anesthesia was commented on at the inquest at Poplar on Fanny Solomons, aged 23, of Wentworth street, Stepney, who died during an operation at the London Jewish Hospital.Dr. Thomas Benner, anesthetist at the hospital, said that he had examined the woman before giving the anesthetic and found nothing wrong. He had given 21,000 anesthetics, and had had only four deaths.It was stated that the woman was suffering from heart disease.Recording a verdict of death by misadventure, the deputy coroner,
Dr. P. B. Skeels, said that Dr.
Benner had had a wonderful record. Deaths under anesthetics were exceedingly rare, and those which did occur only seemed to prove the rule how safe anesthetics were.

PRESERVATION OF PEACE.

AMENDMENT TO ORDINANCE.

The Gazette contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Peace Preservation Ordinance, 1880.

Section 14 of the Peace Preservation Ordinance, 1880, is amended by the addition after the word "Ordinance" at the end thereof of the following words:

"or in respect of any act, matter or thing done during the continuance of any proclamation heretofore or hereafter issued under this Ordinance, or within the period of five days before the date of any such proclamation, if done in good faith, and done or purported to be done, in the execution of the duty or for the public safety or for the defence of the Colony or for the enforcement of discipline or otherwise in the public interest, if such person be a person holding office under or employed in the service of the Crown in any capacity, whether naval, military, air-force, or civil, or be a person holding office under or employed in the service of the Government of the Colony in any capacity, or be a person acting under the authority of a person holding office or to be employed, or be a public officer, a member of the Volunteer Defence Corps, a member of the Hong Kong Police Reserve, or a special constable." The Ordinance strengthens the indemnity provision of the principal Ordinance.

STALIN ON FOREIGN ORDERS.

TARIFFS MORE IMPORTANT THAN CREDIT.

Riga.—Stalin, at a meeting of the foreign trade commissariat, in approving a proposal to revise the system for placing orders abroad, said: "With the trade balance adverse to the extent of 150,000,000 roubles for the first half of this year, compared with only 91,000,000 last year, and with Western Europe's reluctance to accept our honest proposal for an economic non-aggression pact, our patronage of foreign industries will have to be made dependent on the economic tactics and customs policy of the respective countries. This is more important than credit considerations, because an economic understanding with countries which are throttling our exports is impossible."

BRITISH AIR SUCCESS.

Brussels, August 20.—Five prizes out of six have been won by British subjects at the aerial rally at St. Hubert. Miss Grace Aikman won the challenge cup of St. Hubert, and also the cup awarded by the Governor of the Province of Luxembourg. A special prize in the same race was won by Mr. Thomas Francis. The race of about St. Hubert—St. Hubert—was won by Mr. Lionel Balfour, and the competition for delivering messages in the air was won by Mr. Ackerley.

SUITORS' FUND ORDINANCE.

CHANGE IN SUPREME COURT PROCEDURE.

The Gazette contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Suitors' Fund Ordinance.

In the objects and reasons it is explained that the principal Ordinance was passed at the request of the Secretary of State, the Marquis of Ripon, in his despatch of the August 10, 1894, somewhat on the lines of the Suitors' Funds Ordinance, 1891, of the Straits Settlements, under which Court moneys were placed on deposit with the Colonial Treasurer and the Government was made liable to make good all monies so placed on deposit together with interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum. The Straits Settlements procedure is now regulated by appropriate provisions of their Civil Procedure Code.

Sections 2 and 3 of the Suitors' Funds Ordinance, 1896, require that all monies paid into court should be placed on deposit with the Treasurer and should be paid out by the Treasurer only on the requisition of the Registrar.

Under the existing practice, moneys paid into Court are paid by the Registrar into the account of the Government, at such bank as the Treasurer may indicate and the Treasurer is informed daily of the amount paid in.

When payment out is required, the Registrar issues to the intended payee a "Direction" (Form 4 prescribed by the Suitors' Funds Rules, 1928) requiring the Treasurer to pay to the person named therein a specified sum. The payee then takes the "Direction" to the Treasury where payment is made in accordance with the tenor thereof.

Individual ledger accounts for actions in connection with which payments are made into Court are kept only by the Registrar, the Treasurer keeping merely an account dealing with the total amounts paid into and out of the bank as Suitors' Funds.

The keeping by the Treasurer of individual ledger accounts would, by reason of the multiplicity of items (largely small in amount), involve much labour and would be reduplication of work done in the Registry, but, without the keeping of such accounts the present system affords no effective safeguard, as the Treasurer has no means of determining whether the sum which he is directed to pay is in fact payable to the person named in the "Direction."

Cumbersome System.

The present system is cumbersome and involves labour in the Treasury and delay and inconvenience for litigants without affording any commensurate safeguard.

It is considered desirable that payments into Court should be dealt with in the manner in which they now are, but that payments out of Court should be made by the Registrar direct to the persons entitled thereto, the Registrar being duly informed by the Registrar of all payments into and out of Court. The Colonial Treasurer, the Auditor and the Registrar of the Supreme Court are desirous of making this change in this procedure, which is in accord with that which prevails in the Country Courts in England.

The Ordinance has been submitted to the Secretary of State, Lord Balfour, and is in the form approved by him in his despatch of the August 11, 1931.

BRITISH AIR SUCCESS.

Brussels, August 20.—Five prizes out of six have been won by British subjects at the aerial rally at St. Hubert. Miss Grace Aikman won the challenge cup of St. Hubert, and also the cup awarded by the Governor of the Province of Luxembourg. A special prize in the same race was won by Mr. Thomas Francis. The race of about St. Hubert—St. Hubert—was won by Mr. Lionel Balfour, and the competition for delivering messages in the air was won by Mr. Ackerley.

INDIANS OPEN LEAGUE CRICKET SEASON WITH A WIN.

ROYAL ENGINEERS AND SIGNALS PUT UP
STERN FIGHT.

M. R. ABBAS PLAYS FINE INNINGS. DIVETT'S
DEADLY BOWLING AGAINST NAVY.

The league cricket season opened over the week-end when the Indian Recreation Club, last season's champions, started with a win over the R. E. & S. A. feature of this game was the gallant innings of M. R. Abbas, the I.R.C. skipper, who, going in when everything was going wrong, knocked up 45 in quick time and saved his side from what threatened to be complete collapse.

Two friendlies were played which resulted in wins for the Club seconds and Diocesan Boys' School over the Navy and Craigengower Cricket Club respectively.

CHAMPIONS WIN.

ABBAS PLAYS TYPICAL CAPTAIN'S INNINGS.

A typical captain's innings by the new Indian Recreation Club second eleven leader, M. R. Abbas, characterized the I.R.C. & S. match at Sookunpoo which resulted in a win for the former by 22 runs.

The Indians had first use of the wickets, but despite a sound innings by their opening bat, M. P. Madar (21), they were soon in difficulties and at one time the score board read 3 wickets for 58 runs. It was at this stage that M. R. Abbas joined "A. R." and while the latter continued to play stylishly, the newcomer hit out in a most fearless manner, after despatching Williams to the boundary three times out of four deliveries, he continued to give a display of free hitting and went on to make 45 runs in very quick time. His partnership with A. R. Abbas resulted in 153 after a very poor start. Williams took 5 wickets for 49 runs.

The soldiers started none too well, losing their first wicket at 17 and they would probably have had a chance offered by Williams (45), before this batsman opened his account, been accepted. Col. Skinner hit very hard for his twenty runs but had running between the sticks on the part of the Indian batsmen probably cost them the match. For the Indians A. S. Sufiad took 2 wickets for 14 runs while Arculli had 3 for 22.

The Club 2nd XI made the trip to King's Park on Saturday when they were entertained in a friendly match by the Navy second string, the match resulting in an easy win for the visitors by 30 wickets.

Batting first, the home team were all out for the paltry total of 58 runs, a fine bowling feat by G. E. R. Divett, who took 6 wickets for 13 runs, being the cause of their downfall. Lt. Comdr. Skyrme (25) was the top scorer while Lt. Villiers helped with 17.

Opening the innings for the Club, H. J. Armstrong (70) and Divett (21) engaged in a partnership which produced 89 runs. The Club's total stood at 128 for 8 when stumps were drawn.

CRAIGENGOWER LOSE TO SCHOOLBOYS.

EXCELLENT BATTING BY PRATA AND REED.

Craigengower Cricket Club entertained the Diocesan Boys' School in a friendly match, the game resulting in a very creditable win for the latter by nine wickets.

Batting first, the home team put up the respectable total of 155 runs, Barry retiring with a well-played 60, while F. Lee helped himself to 45 before retiring.

The school started none too well, losing their first wicket early on, but a partnership between R. J. Reed and A. Prata, which yielded 140 runs, gave them an easy win. Both lads played very pretty cricket and while Reed made 70, Prata had 45, leaving the magical

CLUB STAND ON FIRE.

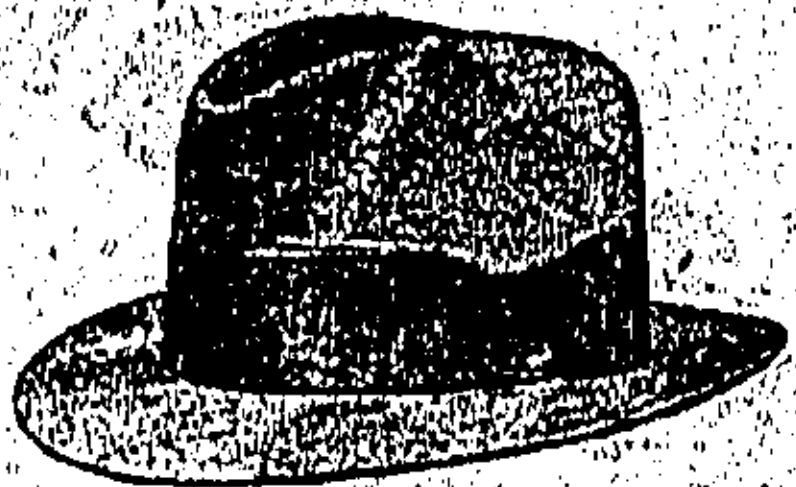

Shortly after the Club-St. Joseph's match, a slight outbreak of fire, dangerously near the open stand on the Club ground (near the Police Recreation Club), was discovered.

A number of members who were at the Clubhouse at the time dealt with the outbreak until the arrival of the Fire Brigade, which had little difficulty in putting it out. It was stated that the cause of the fire was probably a cigarette end carelessly thrown on a pile of hay heaped against the stands.

VALOROUS CONTINUES TO WIN

NINTH "EXTRA" RACE MEETING WITHOUT SPECIAL FEATURES: FAVOURITES DO WELL.

ZORHAN BEATEN IN THE DOUBLE TENTH PLATE.

(By "MORNING DEV.")

The race meeting held at Happy Valley on Saturday was without special features as the public judged form quite well and there were no big dividends going. Valorous continues to win in effortless fashion and promises to go a very long way during the pre-season, his chances of carrying off the St Leger next month appearing extremely bright.

Royal Flush, receiving a concession of weight from a field of five "A" class ponies, carried off the second race over a mile and a quarter, showing a brilliant flash of speed over the last quarter. The Grouse won the event for sub and Mr. Crowe, a novice, rode Silver Key in fine style to win handsomely from a field of twelve in the fifth race. Mr. Crowe's mount paid his supporters almost 6-1, which, incidentally, was the biggest winning dividend paid over the counter. In the last race, the backers of Grey Dawn for a place were paid $70.30 each.

Mr. S. N. Pan rode three winners during the afternoon and obtained a second place, while Mr. U. da Rosa had two wins, two second places and a third.

Zorhan was made favourite for the Double Tenth Plate, but he went under to Nippy and King's Counsel.

THE RACING.

A field of nine started in the first race and Morning Star and The Plover were about equal in demand. The former was ridden by Pan and the latter by Mr. C. U. da Rosa. Both jockeys were content to run with the field over the first six furlongs, but coming into the straight, Morning Star drew out, to be joined immediately by The Plover on the rails and Imperial Hall on the outside. The three of them raced up the straight, but Imperial Hall was a better pony a hundred yards from home. The other two candidates provided a neck-and-neck struggle all the way, first one then the other showing its nose in front. Mr. da Rosa, however, managed to get his mount a short head to the good when the two flashed past the winning post.

CONFIDENT ALL THE WAY.

Mr. Pan, riding Royal Flush at 140 pounds in the Kwangsi Handicap against Gold Key, Spey, Wonderful Stag and King's Colour, had very little to do. He was content to let the others make the pace, pulling Royal Flush hard all the way over the first six furlongs in order to bring up the rear. Royal Flush was given the bit at the back and came along with a big rush. Entering the straight, a length in front of the field, the pony romped home an easy winner. Gold Key made a big effort in the straight, and got within a length of the winner, but it must be remembered that Royal Flush was not pushed at all.

THE GROUSE PRESSED.

Mr. G. U. da Rosa won on The Grouse in the next race, and although it was an outstanding pony, it only won by half a length. Acacia Leaf and Celerity were second and third respectively. The Grouse was sent out at the distance post, but did not come away too easily. Acacia Leaf challenged him and contested the ground well, but was found wanting when nearing the winning post. Celerity came up with a belated rush to get within half a length of Acacia Leaf. It will be interesting to see how these three ponies will fare over the Subscription Griffs St Leger next month.

ZORHAN BEATEN.

Zorhan was made a favourite at the last moment in the Double Tenth Plate, but the old stalwart was obviously out of condition and never looked like winning. King's Counsel came away with a big rush at the start, followed two lengths behind by Nippy and Zorhan, but the latter dropped further back before the straight was reached and was out of the picture in the home straight. Meanwhile Nippy caught up with the leader and both entered the straight together; here a thrilling finish was fought out between the two, resulting in a victory by a neck for Nippy.

MR. CROWE'S WIN.

Silver Key was made third favourite in a field of twelve in the Kwangsi Handicap. Mr. Crowe sent him to the front at the "Go" and kept him there all the way. At the Rock, Nookhill got within half a length of Silver Key, but the latter drew away again on entering the straight, and won by three lengths from Ray of Bellingham ridden by Mr. Soares. Serapitt was a good third, finishing on the far side away from the rails.

EROS COMES HOME.

Mr. Proulx brought Eros home an easy winner in a field of three, the other starters being Paul Pry and Piccalilli. The last named appeared to be very badly out of condition. He led over the first quarter and then slowed down visibly. Eros took charge of the race three furlongs from home and won as he liked. Meanwhile Paul Pry and Piccalilli had an interesting race between them for second place. Paul Pry was a few lengths behind entering the straight, but Mr. Harriman made up ground rapidly to share the second place with Piccalilli.

VALOROUS AGAIN.

Valorous, an "A" Class pony, found himself opposed to Blue Boy and The Gomeril in the Hunan Handicap (1 mile) and as might be expected, won by many lengths. Blue Boy made the running but before the race was half over, Valorous was sent to the front when he began to increase the gap between himself and Blue Boy. The Gomeril finished four lengths behind Blue Boy.

MR. PAN'S THIRD WIN.

Mr. Pan rode a well-judged race to win on Cloudy Eve in the last race from a field of nine. Tango, for some reason, appealed to the public and was made the favourite but failed to get a place. Fi-Fa and Wise Stag were also well-backed, but they were beaten out of a place. Cloudy Eve was kept in the back of the field by Mr. Pan who brought him out three furlongs from home and from there gradually drew ahead. A strong challenge by Grey Dawn, (which had been prominent all the way) in the straight made no impression on the winner. Grey Dawn's place brought his supporters over $70 per ticket. Mongolian Stag was third.

ENGLISH NEWS-LETTER TO HELENA OF HONG KONG.

FROM JOCASTA.

THAT HORRIBLE BUDGET: LONDON'S LOVELY LIGHTS: WHEELS AND WINGS: TRUBS AND CLUMPS!

London, September.

London was in the limelight again last week my dear Helena, in more senses than one. Firstly because all eyes were focused on Westminster for the meeting of our new National Government, and secondly because of the wonderful display of "Floodlighting" which glorified many of London's famous buildings, each night.

It would be hard to say which of these events roused the greatest enthusiasm, but I think on the whole the floodlights were the chief attraction!

Governments may come and Governments may go, but they all travel along the same old road, and that is always the stony track which leads to the great waste-lands of increased taxation!

The Latest thing-in-Government seems to be brandishing a truly formidable bludgeon over our unprotected heads; and it will be a case of good-bye luxury, good-bye pleasure, good-bye to those savings-in-the-Bank, and to hell with the "rainy-day" for rich and poor alike! Everybody (and specially the poor-unfortunate Business-man) thinks and talks and worries about the Budget until I for one, am sick and tired of the topic.

It invades the breakfast-table, finds its way among the tea-cups and comes into dinner with the soup! It creeps onto the golf-links, and obtrudes itself into the comic-song and the Star-comedienne's latest joke. Both the Budget, say I, and let's forget it! It can't be cured and must be endured but you and I at any rate, dear Helena, will think of something more agreeable.

Floodlighting: As for Trafalgar Square!

Quite the nicest thing which has happened lately is the vision of beauty created each night by London's lovely lights!

Why did I come think of them before? Who was the magician who evolved this plan for turning dingy buildings, streets and squares, into a fantastic fairyland by means of a simple arrangement of high-powered lamps?

The transformation must be seen to be believed. Buckingham Palace which seems so severe and uncompromising by day, is well worth looking at, when it glitters against a dusky sky like a palace of frosted sugar. Big Ben looks more imposing than ever with its lighted face glowing among the stars. The roofs and domes above the Horse Guards Parade might belong to some lovely Oriental mosque, painted in palest gold against the dark trees of St. James' Park. As for Trafalgar Square, it is a place of mystery and enchantment with its lions and fountains; while the portals of the National Gallery (flooded with burning orange light) seem like the entrance to some mighty temple.

I used to think that Hong Kong by night was one of the loveliest sights in the world, but now I must admit that London by floodlight is lovelier still.

London last week was as crowded as it had been the height of the season and the theatres have taken on a new lease of life.

"The Life Machine."

Of course we went to see that much-discussed play called "The Life Machine" at the Garrick Theatre. Much stress is laid on the fact that it is for adults only and that children will be refused admittance and it has been tremendously advertised on the hush-hush principle.

I can assure you that there is very little behind all this fuss, and I do not predict a long run. The treatment and staging are certainly unusual, but the plot is not. A poor girl, driven to the verge of hysteria by overwork and under-feeding, marries a rich man whom she dislikes, and ends by murdering him.

It is an unpleasant play but it teaches nothing new, and the "Young Woman" as portrayed by Mary Grey is so neurotic that she alienates the sympathy of the audience and is irritating instead of being pitiful. There is practically no scenery—yet the scenes are most cleverly suggested by focussing limelight on to the essential features. Black curtains drape the stage, and two desks and typewriters and a switchboard serve to suggest a busy office; a sumptuous bed, a dressing-table and a curtained window indicate an hotel bedroom; three tables, some chairs and a "bar" suggest an American speaking-day, and this, by the way, is the only interesting and arresting scene in the play! The rest is very poor stuff.

Cars!

We left London on a sunny Sunday afternoon and motored sixty miles to the sea, and the whole of that sixty miles we spent in passing one long, unending stream of cars, all speeding back to the metropolis.

Little cars and big cars; motor-bikes and motor-coaches, treading on each others' heels (I mean wheels) with never the freedom of a hundred yards of clear road ahead. Motoring may be a duty under such circumstances, but it certainly isn't a pleasure. Give me a nice quiet trip by air!

Up in a "Plane for Five Shillings!" Since the speed limit was dropped all cars go faster, but this is not apparent till they crash, when corpses result instead of merely invalids. Air-traffic too has increased enormously. Wherever you go you are sure to find some free-lance of the Air, with his small plane parked in a convenient field, ready and waiting to take all and sundry for sky-trips for the sum of five shillings (with stunting, ten-and-six) cheap enough, and they scarcely ever come to grief!

The Autumn Fashions are upon us, and I'll tell you all about them in my next letter so prepare yourself (and your figure) for the new silhouette! The afternoon is getting shorter and bridge-tables tempt us to while away the long English twilight.

Contract.

Contract Bridge is very popular but by no means universal, since it is not yet officially recognised by the best Bridge Clubs.

Have you heard the story of the lady who went on playing contract after several very delicious but powerful cocktails? Said she to her partner "What are spumps! Trades I think!" "Oh no" replied her partner "Not trades, trubs are clumps." Sorry I can't tell you the name of the cocktail, but perhaps it's just as well.

Ever your sober and truthful, JOCASTA.

LOOTERS SENTENCED.

SEQUEL TO WANCHAI DISORDERS.

Three Chinese were charged before Mr. Williams at the Central Police Court on Saturday with the theft of four damascene necklaces, four sets of puff-links, a tortoiseshell cigarette-case and a quantity of clothing, the property of Mrs. Kidara, of 10, Hennessy Road, Wanchai.

All three pleaded guilty. It was stated by the police prosecutor that during the recent disturbances in Wanchai the complainant left her curio shop, and upon returning, discovered the loss of the articles which she reported to the police. Acting on further information the police raided the premises, occupied by the defendants and found part of the loot. The rest was found in various pawn shops.

His Worship sentenced the first and third men to four months' imprisonment while the second was given three months. The return of the property was also ordered without payment of redemption money to the pawn-brokers.

DEMONSTRATION AT SWATOW.

AND A JAPANESE PROTEST.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A huge students demonstration was staged yesterday with the object of giving expression to anti-Japanese feeling. After the meeting in the Chung San Park, in the morning, the demonstrators marched through the principal thoroughfares, round the bund, thence to the main road, waving flags and banners and shouting slogans. At the rear of the demonstration was a detachment of soldiers to maintain order. Armed policemen also lined the Kialat Road.

The students got rather excited when passing the area in which the Japanese hotel, hospital and residences are situated. Here they shouted at the pitch of their voices: "Down with Japanese Imperialism!" "Down with the short men." Going past the hospital some stones were flung into its compound. The Japanese Consul took exception to this and strongly protested to the Mayor, demanding that preventive measures be taken by the authorities to avoid a recurrence.

A Chinese merchant was seen to be parading with the crowd. Upon inquiry the information was elicited that the culprit was discovered to have bought further Japanese goods after the enforcement of the boycott.

Japanese Sailors Stoned.

On the 6th instant, a pinnace from the Japanese warship went alongside the Customs Jetty preparatory to taking aboard some provisions. When its presence became known the sailors on board had some stones hurled at them by hooligans ashore. They did not retaliate, but left after taking on board the provisions.

A representative from the Japanese Consulate and another from the warship personally called at the Mayor's Office and made a very rigorous and official protest. The Mayor not being in port they were received by his subordinate, Mr. Sim. The Japanese officials demanded an explanation of the affair and stated "that this sort of hooliganism and provocation cannot be tolerated." Their visit ended with an intimation that a repetition of such an incident would force reprisals on the part of the Japanese.

There is reason to believe that the authorities are anxious to avoid an incident but in it must be said that irresponsible characters do stupid things and leave the government to make what apology they can.

POLICE RAID ON BARBERS' GUILD.

CHAIRMAN QUESTIONED BY POLICE.

Further details of the police raid the premises of the Barbers' Guild, a short report of which appeared in our issue of Saturday, are now to hand.

It is now learned that the police officers who raided the premises found the vice-chairman of the guild and the treasurer. There were also a clerk and a servant on the premises and all of them were taken into custody. The authorities also seized a quantity of papers and books. The men were allowed to leave after being questioned.

The reason for the raid, it is understood, is because the guild had gone beyond its stated functions and is said to have concerned itself with the anti-Japanese movement. The guild is believed to have held a number of meetings expressly for the purpose of promoting this movement. Locally, pamphlets seized recently by the Police bore the guild's chop and in this connection it will be recalled that certain barbers were convicted by the Courts recently for possession of such pamphlets. It is believed that one of the convicted men was a high official of the guild.

The chairman of the guild of his own accord went up and interviewed Mr. Booth following the raid, and after he had been questioned was allowed to leave.

NASTY INCIDENT AT CANTON.

MANY ANTI-JAP. DEMONSTRATORS SHOT DEAD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, Oct. 11.

A tragedy of unprecedented magnitude occurred last night shortly after 10 o'clock in front of the Wing Hoi Police station in one of the busiest business sections of Canton, when the Police and Peace Maintenance Corps opened fire on thousands of anti-Japanese demonstrators, mostly students, who had gathered in front of the Police Station, resulting in many of the agitators killed and a large number wounded. For a while pandemonium reigned supreme. The panic-stricken pedestrians and student agitators ran in every direction to seek safety, and merchants nearby at once shut and locked their shops. Cries and shrieks from both men and women rang through the air with increasing intensity after the first fusillade.

This ugly incident was an outcome of the intense anti-Japanese feeling and the boycott against goods of Japanese origin. Those in charge of the anti-Japanese boycott, mostly students, had discovered that the Sun Sai Ksi Company, dealers in foreign goods, located on Wing Hoi Road, had of late bought a quantity of Japanese goods, the value of which was said to be over $10,000. These goods were alleged to have been brought to Canton from Shanghai in several carts pulled by coolies. It so happened that an officer of the anti-Japanese Boycott Committee saw it, and the coolies, upon being questioned, said that the goods were for the firm above mentioned.

A crippled soldier was incidentally in the store at the time, making purchases. He noticed that the goods on display were largely of Japanese origin, and asked the proprietor if they had been registered in accordance with the requirements of the Anti-Japanese Boycott Committee. The proprietor was unable to give a satisfactory reply, and the officers of the Committee who had come on the scene, demanded that all the unregistered goods of Japanese origin must be taken and burned. The demand was turned down, and the officers of the Committee, after showing the proprietor their warrant and badges, attempted to seize the goods by force.

The proprietor then called in the Police, charging the anti-Japanese agitators with stealing. The Police sided with the proprietor and attempted to arrest the rioters. Several shots were fired into the air when the demonstrators refused to submit. This did not have any effect on the crowd, who professed to be doing patriotic work. A Police officer hit one man on the head with the butt of his gun, knocking him almost unconscious. He together with one or two others were brought to the Police station, and charged with inciting a riot.

Police Open Fire.

A few minutes later no less than 5000 people gathered in front of the Police Station, demanding the immediate and unconditional release of their fellow patriots thus detained, and an apology from the Sergeant-in-Charge. Notwithstanding repeated representations the demand was refused.

The crowd, mostly students, impatient and turbulent, then began to throw bricks into the Police Station. Windows were thus broken and doors smashed. The Police again fired a volley into the air in an attempt to disperse the crowd, but with no effect. The students, the leader of whom carried a big Chinese national flag, then rushed in, their main object being to release their fellow-workers and to punish the Police Officer responsible for their arrest. They were met with a volley of shots, fired at point-blank range from within.

The effect of this was immediate. The crowd dispersed at once, leaving the dead and wounded behind. But this did not satisfy the friends of Police and the Peace Maintenance Corps who had rushed to the scene in response to the alarm. The Police and Peace Maintenance Corps continued shooting for over half an hour. The unarmed and defenceless students were pursued for a block or more.

The exact number of killed is still unknown, as the Police gathered up the bodies and hid them. The wounded, however, were taken to various hospitals for treatment, including the Sun Yat Sen University Hospital, the Municipal and the Kwong Wah Hospital.

The students, some 150,000 strong, enraged by this outrage by the Police, marched en bloc to Government House this morning at 9 o'clock and demanded nothing short of immediate execution of the Police sergeant, Mr. To Huen Tai, alleged perpetrator of the massacre, and his subordinates. The front of Government House was besieged, and the Chinese, Mr. Wang Ching, came out and spoke to the crowd. (Continued at foot of next column.)

SERVICE ROUTE MARCHES.

IMPRESSIVE PARADES ON SATURDAY.

Impressive route marches both on the Island and on the Peninsula were carried out by the Naval and Military authorities on Saturday morning.

The Navy, assembled on the grounds of the Naval Dockyard, at approximately 10 o'clock marched out of the Prince of Wales Gate. About 800 ratings, drawn from every British warship in port, marched behind a Marine band, whilst following them, also headed by a band, came a detachment of Royal Marines (about 160 strong), all wearing steel helmets and marching with fixed bayonets. This long body of men, stretching from Arsenal Street to the Main Gate of the Dockyard, when seen on a straight stretch of road, marched through the eastern district of the island, going as far as Percival Street, East Point, before returning.

At about the same time, the South Wales Borderers issued from the Wellington Barracks and marched to the Murray Parade Ground, where they joined other detachments of the regiment drawn from the Mount Austin and Murray Barracks, as many men as could be spared from barracks duty being on parade.

Companies Deploy.

These men, also wearing steel helmets, and with fixed bayonets, were divided into two bodies. One section filled four buses whilst the others marched. They proceeded up Garden Road to the mid-levels. One bus full of soldiers went in front followed by a marching column, and behind them came the other three buses.

They proceeded through Lower Albert and Coine Roads, and then split up into Companies marching through the various sections of the western district. Those in the buses went as far as West Point and Kennedy Town.

On the way back to barracks all the Companies marched along the sea front, joining forces as they went along. Outside the Star Ferry wharf they were met by the regimental band, which played for the march past of the whole column in front of the Cenotaph, where H.E. the G.O.C., Major-General J. W. Sandilands, took the Salute. After the march past, the regiment returned to barracks.

In Kowloon.

In Kowloon the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the 3rd Regiment carried out a deploy similar to that of the S.W.B.

The Scots advanced from the Shamshui Camp, while the Indians issued from the Whitfield barracks. They also split into companies soon after leaving barracks and went through the various side streets intersecting Nathan Road, between Tsimshatai and Shamshui.

The deploy concentrated on Taumai as the centre objective, after which the two regiments formed up into columns of four and marched with Bands along the whole length of Nathan Road, going in opposite directions back to their quarters.

"CRYSTAL GAZING."

NOTHING BUT HORROR IN THE WORLD.

One of the strangest requests ever made by a Chinese was received at the Central Police Station yesterday from a cook, about 21 years of age, working under Mr. Li Ha Tang, of 9, Caine Road.

Addressing the Inspector on duty, he said: "In view of the anti-Japanese trouble, would the Police have any objection to my renouncing the world by committing suicide. The world is like a great big crystal, and the more I gaze into it I can see nothing but horror."

Exhibiting a hamper of fish and vegetables which the cook had purchased at the market, he further asked for permission to cook the last meal for his master before leaving this world.

The police sent him to the Lunatic Asylum and notified the master.

The friends of students declaring that the Police Sergeant would be tried and executed in compliance with the appeal of the students and others.

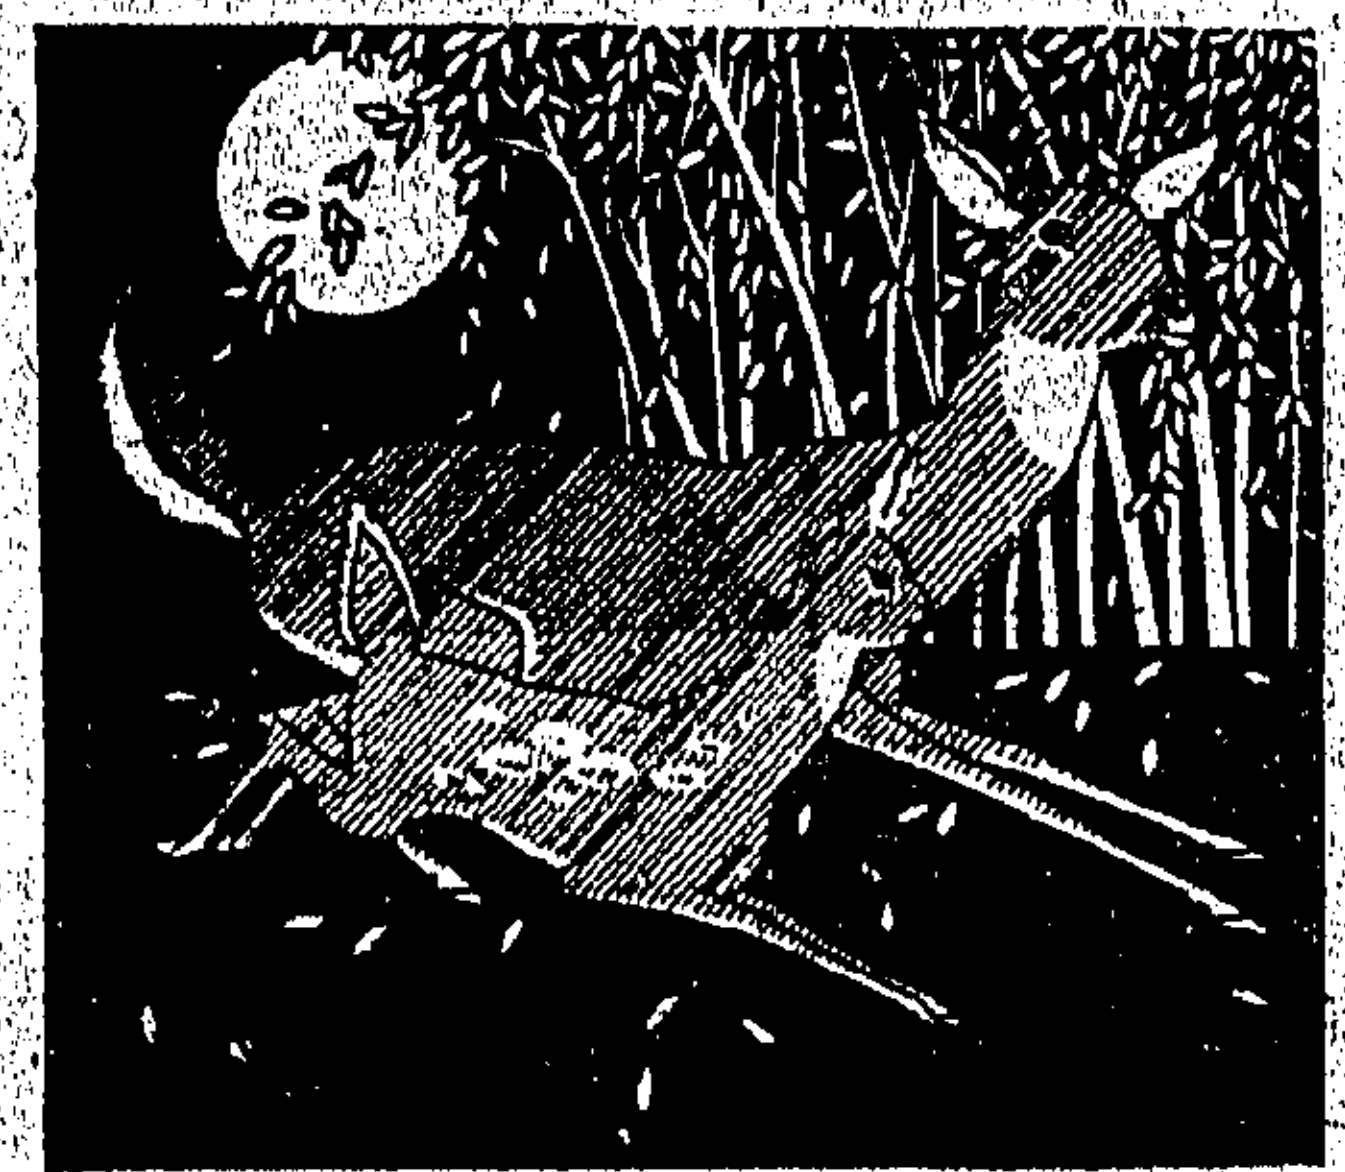

Meanwhile, the Sun Sai Ksi Company mentioned above was ransacked. All the goods, whether of Japanese origin or not, were taken into the street and burned.

Police Commissioner Resigns.

(Pak Tai Tat Pau.)

It is learned that in view of the incident, General Chen Hing Wan, the Canton Police Commissioner, has tendered his resignation.

HONG KONG, OCTOBER 12, 1931.

WILL LABOUR RUN AMOK?

A cloud that was "no bigger than a man's hand" at the beginning of this century now overshadows Britain's political sky. A party pledged to apply the rough and ready methods of aggressive socialism to our intricate commercial and industrial system, may be returned to power at the forthcoming election. We all hope that Mr. Henderson's quick remedies for the economic distress of our country will be rejected by the British voter with the contempt that they deserve, but the unfortunate fact remains that want and unemployment do not make for sound judgment of specious promises of help.

Labour's policy is embodied in the manifesto printed elsewhere in this issue. It involves wild schemes of nationalising banks and industries, and the virtual application of a "Five Years' Plan." The Labour Government of 1924 and that which has just resigned, beguiled many people into the belief that extremist folly had been discarded, but the Socialist wolf has now discarded his sheep's clothing, and barks singularly like his Russian brother.

No one denies that the modern economic system needs alteration and development, but Labour policy will spread darkness and confusion, like a madman swinging a sledge hammer amid the mechanism of an electric power station.

The following extract from the presidential address of Mr. A. HENDYDAY at the Trade Union Congress will show that we do not exaggerate the folly that has now possessed the British Labour party. Mr. HENDYDAY declared:—

"At the bidding of irresponsible and uncontrolled financial interests whose very existence was hardly known to the public, the social policy of this country which had set an example to the rest of the world was to be violently reversed."

These recent events had revealed the existence of an imperious international financial combination possessing the power to bring even a country like ours, wealthy, solvent, and productive, to its knees, and to threaten it with financial ruin unless it agreed to change its policy and curtail its social expenditure.

Political parties, with the exception of our own, have come under the dominance of finance along with the Government of the day. The Labour Government was destroyed by it. It has brought about a financial revolution more ruthless and complete than a military dictatorship could accomplish. And we have learned our lesson. (Hear, hear.)

"It is clear to us now that the tremendous power wielded by the financiers cannot safely be left in private hands, or used, as it is used to-day, for profiteering purposes, and more boldly than ever for the promotion of political and social reaction. Not merely the freedom of action of a People's Government, but the very existence of such a Government is at stake. It is impossible, until the country has been brought under control. It must not any longer be left in private hands. Until we govern the banks, the banks will govern us."

After announcing that any attempt to reduce unemployment benefit would be strenuously resisted, Mr. HENDYDAY said:

"No demand for cuts can be conceded having regard to the resources of the nation, to its invested capital, its balance of trade, its volume of output, and its commercial importance in the life of the world. We look to the possibility of international co-operation in the effort to solve the problems, including the question of Reparations and war debts, that so adversely affect the world's industry and trade."

Should the party led by Mr. Henderson be returned to power these responsible for the guidance of the financial and industrial enterprises of Great Britain will explain, as they have already explained to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Snowden, that the promised remedies will prove an appalling catastrophe. Parties may change but economic facts remain.

Mr. Henderson will once more be faced with the old alternatives of "bankruptcy or economy." He will discover that there is no "bankers' ramp," and if he is unpatriotic enough to try and start the wrecking of England he will soon find his own supporters calling him to account for beguiling them into believing the rubbish talked by Mr. HENDYDAY and the other leaders of the Trades Union Congress.

AMERICA TIRED OF NOISE.

APPARENTLY the American public has about reached the point of saturation in the consumption of noise. Several large cities in the United States have appointed "noise commissions" definitely to determine the effects of noise upon the human system, what noises are preventable and how their prevention may be secured. Also, there is an increasing volume of protests by exasperated citizens against specific forms of noise—from whooping parties to automobile horns and engine whistles—which they consider unnecessary and intolerable.

Building estate values are quite as sensitive to noise as are the sensibilities of human beings. Values drop in noisy zones and rise in quiet ones. This largely accounts for movement of hundreds of thousands of families from the city to country districts. This movement has lately become so marked, due to the increase of city noises, that residential sections of metropolitan centres are becoming depopulated. Reducing city noises has thus become an economic necessity in crowded centres.

The same rule applies in communities in suburban centres and country towns. Immunity from noise is a tangible real estate value, which may be impaired, if not virtually destroyed, overnight. Residents and owners of property in residential sections of country towns accessible to large cities have become alert against noise invasion and are organizing to repel it.

"The human nature element is the most difficult factor to control," says an eminent American Authority who adds, "Education of the public and application of the police powers of municipalities must deal with this factor. Of these education will probably prove the more important, as it will strengthen the arm of the law by an aroused public sentiment."

Tale of the Day.

Stingy employer (to lad applying for a job in butcher's shop): "Your salary will be fifteen shillings a week. Now, my boy, what experience have you had? Can you dress a chicken?"

Applicant (turning away): "No, sir, not on fifteen bob a week."

New Air Marvel.

Successful official experiments have just been made with the "helicopter," the invention of the French engineer, M. Oehmichen. This machine is a sort of helicopter attached to the under-side of a sausage-shaped balloon, containing 400 cubic metres of gas and propelled by a 40 horse-power motor. The helicopter rose and descended vertically, stopped dead when required, and travelled in a reverse direction. Apart from its ability to travel backwards, the value of which property is not at once apparent, the new "machine" appears to be a glorified form of the war-time "Blimp."

"Literary Drudge."

Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. Mitchell, in his presidential address to the conference of the Library Association at Cheltenham said that the future of the library service rested with the authorities, who, even in small towns, must for ever dismiss from their minds the conception of a librarian as a caretaker or a cheap literary drudge.

It was time, he said, that communities abandoned the undignified position of demanding library service under swarted labour conditions and offered adequate payment for what should be one of the most respected services under the municipal hierarchy. To the majority of people the library was the prime source of post-school education. It was surely false economy to spend vast sums on literary education and to starve the one public service which was capable of being made an effective continuation of that education.

Women Members of Legion of Honour.

Seven hundred and nine living women hold the decoration of the Legion of Honour. The figure shows plainly the recent growth of feminine influence since not more than 1,000 have belonged to the Legion since its creation. A French journalist has compiled a list of the women legionaries and their professions. Letters, art and education claim 200, and in the first category is the only Commander of the Legion, the Comtesse de Noailles, the poet. There are two workwomen, a score of actresses, another score of women farmers, two aviators, and three explorers. Five Grand Croix and there are ten foreign officers. One of the most picturesque figures among the holders is the ex-Queen of Tahiti.

£20,000 Offer To Kaye Don.

An anonymous Detroit sportsman has offered Kaye Don £20,000 for the purpose of building a new speed boat for the 1932 Hartswood Trophy race. This sporting offer has been made in the event of Lord Wakefield deciding not to enter another boat next year. It is understood, however, that Kaye Don will not have to avail himself of this munificent gift, as Lord Wakefield has every intention of building a boat for next year's contest. It is presumed from this announcement that Miss England, L.L., which was not much damaged at Detroit, will not return to America.

"Blue Bird's" New Nose.

It is, perhaps, looking far ahead to a day when any challenger will succeed in wresting from Sir Malcolm Campbell his world's land speed record of 245 m.p.h. But should that occur, Sir Malcolm, has already made up his mind to go out for it again. This information was vouchsafed at the firm of coachbuilders just off the King's-road, Chelsea, where

"Blue Bird" is awaiting the fitting of a new "nose." This nose is of the utmost importance, for the streamlining experts, who have tested it on the plasticine model in a wind tunnel, have pronounced that the small change to be effected in its contours should enable the car to attain at least another ten m.p.h. To climb into the cockpit of "Blue Bird" is in itself a thoroughly alarming experience. Speaking metaphorically, a large-size shoe horn is needed to assist the operation, and, once in, it becomes clear that to get out again will be even

ONLY PICKED IT UP!

A THIEF'S LAME EXCUSE

When charged before Mr. Williams at Central Magistrate on Saturday with the theft of nine yards of pink flowered silk from the Chosen Co., Ltd., an unemployed Chinese stated that he picked it up in the street.

Detective-Sergeant V. E. Mendows told the Court that about 8.30 a.m. last Thursday a detective on duty in Queen's Road West noticed a Chinese loitering about. The officer suspected the man and took him to a side lane where he found the silk wrapped round his body under a singlet.

Later it was found that the piece of silk was one of two pieces used to drape the entrance of the Chosen Company's premises. After evidence had been given, accused pleaded to make a statement when he said he came from Canton and did not know that it was "wrong to pick things up in Hong Kong."

The magistrate remarked that he did not believe the man's story and passed sentence of four weeks' hard labour.

Fascist Salute in Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 9. Shouts of "Heil Hitler" from a large crowd at the Wilhelmstrasse greeted the arrival at 11.15 a.m. of Herr Hitler, who responded to a Fascist salute.
Hitler had three-quarters of an hour interview with President Hindenburg. It is believed that they frankly exchanged views on Germany's situation and that the President emphasised that nothing must be done by the Nazis at present to make the situation worse (obviously referring to to-morrow's meeting of the Nazis at Harburg).

LLOYD GEORGE TO JOIN LABOUR RANKS?

MR. HENDERSON'S QUACK REMEDIES FOR ECONOMIC DISTRESS.

FRICTION BETWEEN CONSERVATIVES AND "SAMUEL LIBERALS."

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 10. Mr. Henderson visiting Mr. Lloyd George at the latter's invitation, and the ensuing "full and cordial conversation" regarding things generally are to-day's outstanding feature in the political situation.

Mr. Lloyd George desired first hand knowledge of the events leading up to the resignation of the Labour Government, and, as a result of their talk, Liberal Free Traders and Socialists are likely to combine more closely in resisting tariffs.

Lloyd George denies the report that his war chest is locked as far as Liberal candidates are concerned. On the contrary as far as resources permit funds will be available for Liberal candidates advocating free trade without quibble or reservations.

Another striking piece of intelligence is that Mr. William Cosmo, Secretary of the Seamen's Harbour Labour Party, has been selected as Labour candidate to oppose Mr. Ramsey MacDonald, whom they just disowned.

Premier's Opponent.

LONDON, Oct. 11. That Mr. Henderson's visit to Mr. Lloyd George has set political tongues wagging in support of the conjecture made for some time past that Mr. Lloyd George is moving in the direction of Labour is significant. While Conservatives and National Liberals are making pacts throughout the country to avoid splitting against the Labour vote, Socialists, it is understood, have decided not to oppose Mr. Lloyd George or Miss Megan Lloyd George.

Despite the official Liberal-Conservative alliance there is considerable friction between Conservatives and "Samuel Liberals" in constituencies.
Conservatives of Darwen, despite Mr. Baldwin, have adhered to their determination to put up Captain Allan Graham to oppose Sir Herbert Samuel. A congratulatory telegram from Lord Beaverbrook was read at Capt. Graham's election meeting. Sir H. Samuel's majority in 1929 was only 463, therefore his position is precarious. On the other hand Mr. Winston Churchill is being opposed at Epping by the "Samuel Liberal" Mr. Comyn Scott.

One Chinese field artillery regiment has been transferred from Tientsin to Chinchow, while two infantry regiments have been transferred from Peking to Tungchow.

The following is non-official information from Japanese sources:

Information received from Heilungkiang is that several thousand Russian Militia have concentrated at Blagovestchensk and Habarovsk, and that a factory at Vladivostok has been turned into a munition plant.

Chang Hsueh Liang has telegraphed to Chiang Kai Shek urging a speedy compromise with the Canton Government for unifying the country and has also suggested the continuation of the non-resistance policy until October 13 after which date a declaration of war against Japan and the mobilizing of all available troops.

Japan's Note Handed to China.

NANKING, Oct. 10.

NANKING, Oct. 11.

Mr. Shigemitsu arrived last night. At ten this morning he went from the Japanese Consulate to the Foreign Office and handed the Japanese Note to Mr. Frank Lee, the Vice-Foreign Minister.
It is expected the National Government will send a formal reply in a day or two.

The Vicious Circle.

Tokyo, Oct. 11.

The Government has received a memorandum from Nanking demanding the withdrawal of Japanese troops from outside the railway zone within a week, in connection with which, it is understood, negotiations have been going on for some days between the Chinese Minister and Mr. Shidehara for the purpose of arranging over the maintenance of peace and order in Manchuria after the withdrawal of Japanese troops, but apparently the negotiations took longer than expected, consequently Nanking sent the memorandum for the purpose of expediting the arrangements.

In the meantime unless the negotiations between the Chinese Minister and Shidehara achieve success the vicious circle is likely to go on. The Chinese contending that they are unable to take the responsibility to maintain peace and order until the Japanese have withdrawn, and the Japanese asserting it is impossible to withdraw until the Chinese prove their ability to protect Japanese lives and property.

Railway Track Destroyed.

PEKING, Oct. 10.

According to Chinese reports Japanese aeroplanes are extending the area of their activities, three flying over Tangshan, in China Proper yesterday morning from Chinchow.

Thirty-six Japanese aeroplanes yesterday bombed Tsaoan, wrecking the railway junction there.

SPECIAL MEETING OF LEAGUE COUNCIL.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Senor Lerroux, Acting President of the Council of the League of Nations, has telegraphically summoned all Members of the Council to meet at noon on October 13 at the request of China's representative owing to "serious information received."

The Acting President suggests, considering the early date of the meeting, that any information regarding the development of the situation obtained by Members of the Council should be forwarded as soon as possible to the Secretary-General for transmission to the Council.

WEATHER REPORT.

Yesterday's weather report, forecast and remarks, issued by the Royal Observatory at 6.20 p.m., stated:

Local Forecast:—N.E. winds, strong; fair.

TYPHOON WARNING.

The following typhoon warnings have been received by the American Consulate, General from the Manila Observatory: Manila, Oct. 11, 2.25 p.m.—Typhoon in about 120deg. Long. E. and 18deg. Lat. N., moving W.

The Secretary-General of the League of Nations has telegraphed to the Chinese and Japanese Governments: "The President of the League Council requests that we forward to your Government the following communication:—"

"Information received tends to show that incidents are taking place in Manchuria and elsewhere which cannot but embitter feeling and thus render settlement of the problem all the more difficult. In these circumstances, and pending the meeting of the Council, I feel it my duty, as President of the Council to remind the two parties of their engagements, taken before the Council to refrain from any action which would aggravate the situation, and express the confident hope that steps are now being taken by both sides to execute fully the assurance given to the Council and embodied in its resolution on September 30."

GRUESOME FIND AT HELSINGFORS.

CONNECTED WITH "BLACK MAGIC" GANG?

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 11. The recent discovery, near Helsingfors, of forty mutilated bodies in a well and the Pauper Cemetery, and believed to be connected with "black magic" practised by an international sect, had a repercussion in London by Scotland Yard inquiring with regard to a man, said to be a naturalised Englishman, living in London and the alleged leader of the secret society responsible for the mutilations.
The keeper of the Mortuary at Helsingfors, who has been arrested on suspicion of implication in the mutilations, was found to possess incriminating correspondence and literature on necromancy and "black magic."

Britain Agrees With Council.

In the House of Commons on Monday, it was stated that the attitude of the British Government was in complete accord with the League Council.

Japan was the aggressor. Her army, whether out of control or acting under instructions, means war. China has shown extraordinary patience and put full confidence in the League of Nations. There is every sign of a Japanese plot to misinform the League Council by describing the passive Chinese attitude as an aggressive boycott.
This, according to the Manchester Guardian, is the common sense of the present issue; and the League's only chance, it says, is to avoid the pitfalls of subtle diplomacy and rely on common sense.

League Put On Its Mettle.

GENEVA, Oct. 10.

It is generally felt here that the action by the United States Government in regard to the Sino-Japanese conflict is undoubtedly strengthening the hands of the League Council in their effort to reach a pacific settlement.
The Council, it is said, has been put upon its mettle this time, indeed, it is faced with a crucial problem and all friends of the League are ardently hoping that it will emerge from the ordeal with flying colours.

It is already a fact that Lord Reading is attending besides M. Briand, Signor Grandi and M. Zaleski. This has produced a most favourable impression and is tending to increase the authority of the Council, which was unfortunately lacking at the last session.

German Delegate.

Dr. Brüning is unlikely to come in view of the meeting of the Reichstag; but it is probable that von Bismarck, the Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, will replace Dr. Curtius.

The meeting on Tuesday will commence by a private conference at which Senor Lerroux, representative of Britain, France, Italy, Germany and the Chinese and Japanese delegates will be present. This is the committee dealing with Manchuria and a fresh attempt will be made to effect an understanding in the matter, which will afterwards come before a public sitting of the Council.

UNIFICATION OF CHINA.

CHIANG REPLIES TO CANTON.

(Wah Tee Yat Pao.)

CANTON, Oct. 11. General Chen Ming Shu, who carried Canton's peace proposals to Nanking, has arrived at the capital and has telegraphically advised Canton the result of his consultation with Marshal Chiang Kai Shek.
According to General Chen, Mr. Hu Han Min will go to Shanghai shortly after the anniversary of the Chinese Republic. Marshal Chiang has agreed to the holding of a Unification Conference which is to be participated in by all political cliques of the Kuomintang.
On receipt of this telegram the Canton delegation including Messrs. Wang Ching Wei and Sun Fo are preparing to sail for the North.

CONFERENCE AT NANKING.

(Wah Tee Yat Pao.)

NANKING, Oct. 9. As a result of further exchange of views between Canton and Nanking, the proposed Unification Conference will be held at Nanking instead of Shanghai as originally suggested. This Conference will be devoted to the discussion of resolutions to be taken in dealing with the Manchurian problem, and with a view to obtaining nation-wide support of any decision to be taken on this extremely important issue. Feng Yu Hsiang and Yen Hsi Shan are invited to participate in the deliberation.
As to party disputes, both Nanking and Canton are desirous of having them settled later on.

MONGOLIA INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT?

(Wah Tee Yat Pao.)

PEKING, Oct. 9. According to a Mukden message, several leading princes and chieftains in Inner Mongolia are organizing an independence movement under the instigation of the Japanese authorities. They are said to have been able to induce representatives from forty-eight banners in Inner Mongolia to hold a meeting at Mukden. General Hoij, Commander of the Japanese Army at Ewantung, suggests to the Inner Mongolian Princes the formation of a kingdom of Manchuria and Inner Mongolia.

INTERPORT LAWN BOWLS.

SHANGHAI BEATEN IN OPENING GAME: COLLAPSE AFTER SPLENDID RECOVERY.

MEDINA PLAYS A CONSISTENT GAME: BRILLIANT WORK BY CULLEN AS SKIP.

In the first of the three interport lawn bowls games played on Saturday, Shanghai lost to Hong Kong by nine shots. The match was played on the Kowloon Bowling Green Club ground in cloudy weather, a drizzle causing interference shortly before the close.

Among the large number of spectators present was the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southorn, a keen bowler, who greeted the players before they started to roll up.

The victory of the local team by the large margin of nine shots does not indicate the run of the play. Hong Kong scored 14 shots after eleven heads and remained standing for six heads while Shanghai raised their score from four shots to 16, or two shots ahead of Hong Kong. The local team, however, regained the lead by scoring a five.

Shanghai's doom was sealed in the penultimate head, when they were four shots in arrears, and the spectators were disappointed in their hopes of seeing the issue decided in the final head.

Interesting play was confined to a few heads. One of these was the third head in which the skips drew applause. Holland was lying the shot with a touch when Main drew for the shot. Cullen turned the tables with a fine draw, and Main retaliated with a wick off to lie against the jack and the head went to Shanghai for a single. Cullen made a beautiful draw for the shot in the fifth head to count out three Shanghai woods.

"Joss" for Hong Kong.

In the sixth head, Medina delivered two good woods, one hard in front of the jack and another alongside. Richards drew on Medina's first wood, and in doing so he moved the jack nearly a foot behind. Fraser got in on the back hand and had a bit of luck in wicking off to get round for the shot, which Richards and Main tried unsuccessfully to dislodge.

Punchoon placed both his woods nearest the jack in the eighth head, while Fraser and Cullen added one each. Main tried to break up, but missed. The local skip made a slip in the next head. Glover had laid two shots when Holland came in for second, and his next wood pushed up one of Punchoon's against the jack. Richards moved the wood and the jack, but not far enough to alter the position. Cullen went wide, but his next wood had the effect of giving the shot away to Shanghai.

A good stroke was effected by Medina in the 19th head when he knocked away Holland's wood to count the second wood himself, and Main added a third. Cullen failed in a drive. Glover placed a touch on the jack in the 19th head. Medina drew second a foot behind. Fraser tried hard to move the woods, but both his woods went through without effecting any change. Cullen also failed to alter the position.

In the 14th head, Punchoon drew first shot and Holland the second. Richards pushed the jack through to count second, but Fraser exchanged the position. Main ran into the ditch in attempting to take out the second, but he was successful with his next wood in drawing for second place. Cullen's second delivery caused a disarrangement to give Shanghai the shot after a measure.

Hong Kong Overtaken.

Punchoon drew for shot with a touch in the 16th head, and Medina received applause for the same stroke. Holland drew shot with a heavy one, and Richards was cheered for taking out the counter with a touch and placing three woods in the count for Shanghai. Main added another and blocked with his second after Cullen had sent wide. The latter ran into the ditch to see Shanghai gather four shots and gain the lead by one. The applause accorded Shanghai for their fine recovery was repeated in the next head when their skip drew for the shot, Hong Kong then lying three shots. Cullen was unsuccessful in a drive to take away Main's wood.

Hong Kong regained the lead in the 18th head by counting five shots. They were lying three shots some distance away from the jack when Main delivered his first only to strike timber. Cullen moved the jack slightly to retain the three shots. Main drove with his second when it was expected that he would effect a draw. He knocked the woods about and Hong Kong counted four instead of three. Cullen added the fifth to make the score 10-16 in favour of Hong Kong.

Another shot came for Hong Kong in the 19th head. Medina had a touch and his second wood both in the count when Cullen drew with his first, "measure for shot." His second wood made the shot certain for Hong Kong, the score being 20-10.

CARDINALS WIN WORLD SERIES.

(REUTERS' AMERICAN SERVICE.)

St. Louis, Oct. 11.

The Cardinals beat the Athletics in the last baseball game of the World Series by a score of 4-2 and clinched the pennant. Scarcely twenty-five thousand people attended the game.

George Watkins made the game a sure thing when he lopped a homer in the third. Bill Hallahan, the Cardinals' south-paw, pitched a pretty game, scoring five hits with no errors. Wilson caught.

George Eanshaw and Rube Walberg pitched for the Athletics, holding the Cardinals to seven hits with only one error. Mike Cochran held down the home plate for the Athletics.

Visitors Collapse.

The 20th head, rolling from the road end, was played in a steady drizzle, spectators having to seek shelter. Glover drew the shot with a touch. Holland coming in for second, Richards knocked out the second wood and excitement ran high as the stroke had placed Shanghai with three woods nearest the jack. Fraser pushed away the third wood, while Cullen took advantage of a number of back woods to send a driver. He succeeded in this as the moving about of the woods gave Hong Kong two shots for certain. Main also drove but missed his objective. Hong Kong counted four shots, including two some five feet away.

With a deficit of eight shots and one head to go, it seemed to be all over with Shanghai. Glover sent his first wood within two inches of the jack. Holland sent a touch for the shot. Richards dislodged the wood and posted his own near the jack, which Fraser tried unsuccessfully to remove with his second wood. Cullen hit the jack to push it against one of his own woods. Main drew for the second shot, and as a last resort he used his next wood for a drive, but without effect.

Comment.

Medina sent quite a large number of touches during the game and he was the most consistent player on his side. Main did good work as a skip, but his driving tactics brought disappointing results. He made a costly error in this direction when he used his last wood for this purpose in the 18th head.

The Hong Kong players did good work occasionally to deprive Shanghai of many shots, and on two or three other occasions it seemed that the luck was all on their side. Cullen was the outstanding player, and his work on the whole was brilliant.

As an interport game, the standard of play was disappointing, many of the heads providing largely scattered woods.

KOWLOON BEAT RECREIO IN FIRST DIVISION.

CLUB TROUNCES ST. JOSEPH'S IN FRIENDLY GAME.

All league football matches except the Kowloon-Recreio match in the senior division arranged for Saturday were postponed, this being due to the fact that the Services and Police teams were not able to fulfil their fixtures on account of various duties.

Kowloon beat Recreio by three goals to nil in their match but the score was no fair indication of the play, the Portuguese lads putting up quite a good fight.

Following their overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Club in their league fixture recently, St. Joseph's were again badly beaten by the Happy Valley team, this time the Club winning by seven goals to nil, while the second strings of these teams played a one-all draw. In the other friendly of the afternoon Recreio Reserves beat Kowloon Reserves by the odd goal in five.

DIVISION I.

KOWLOON v. RECREIO.

This match took place at Kowloon and in fairness to the Recreio boys, it must be said that the score (3-0 in favour of Kowloon) rather flattered the winners who had most of the luck that was going.

Recreio kicked-off and were soon attacking, but the Kowloon defence proved equal to the occasion and cleared time and again. For a time play was confined to midfield and then Kowloon forced a corner which resulted in Greenwood opening the scoring for them, following a scramble outside the Recreio goal.

The Portuguese players were by no means disheartened by this setback which, if anything, only served to give them new vigour. Kowloon on the other hand were also playing hard to keep their lead and kept up a pressure which gave the Recreio defence a trying time. Just before the interval Kowloon were awarded a penalty and taking the kick, Tanson found the net to give his side a 2-nil lead.

When play was resumed, Recreio had definitely the better of the exchanges but luck was against them and although they were favourably placed on more than one occasion, they did everything but score. This was followed by a period of scrappy play until Kowloon again going and made a raid on the Recreio which resulted in Simpson finding the net with a low drive. In making this shot, Simpson twisted his knee and had to be carried out and although Kowloon had another chance to score again when they were awarded the second penalty, Tanson's shot went wide.

The teams were:—
Kowloon: — Nicholls, Martin, Dowman, Hedley, McKelvie, Bliss, Simpson, Dornay, Timberlake, Greenwood and Tanson.
Recreio: — Marques, Silva-Netto, Sousa, Victor, A. V. Gosand, B. Medeiros, Gomes, Beltrao, Ward, B. Gosano and Brown.

FRIENDLY MATCHES.

CLUB v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

The Club had another opportunity of proving their superiority over St. Joseph's when these teams met for the second time this season, the former again winning, by an easy margin.

Definitely the better combination, the Club had things pretty much their own way and monopolised play in the first half when they scored four goals, the players responsible for these being Bell (2), Howe and Hamilton.

The second half was a repetition of the first, and although St. Joseph's were awarded a corner early in the stanza, it resulted in nothing. Playing a good combined game, the Club forwards kept going once again and before the whistle sounded they added another three goals to their total through Bell, Boardman and Strange.

The teams were:—
Club: — Egwill, Strange, and Pile, Bailton, McFarlane and Boardman; Alexander, Bell, Hoyt, E. Strange, and Jackson.

London, Oct. 11.

The South African rugby tourists won their third match by beating Swansea by 10 points to 3.

together that they were allowed to score twice, Greenberg and Cotton getting the goals.

Not in the least disheartened by this early setback, the Recreio players came back with determination after the interval and their efforts were deservedly rewarded when they got three goals through Santos (F), Gonsalves and Guterres.

Taking the game on the whole, it was quite well-worth watching with luck first favouring one side and then swinging round to the other.

The teams were:—
Kowloon: — Cameron, Williams, London, Everest, Gilchrist, Greenberg, M. Greenberg, Wells, Cotton, Bickford and Noonan.
Recreio: — McGrann, Britto, Gaan, C. Gosano, Figueiredo, E. Lawrence, Almeida, Gonsalves, Guterres, J. Santos and F. Santos.

SATURDAY'S INTERPORT TRIAL.

INTERESTING DAY'S CRICKET.

EVERYONE SHORT OF PRACTICE.

On Saturday last two sides, of twelve players each, captained by T. E. Pearce and H. Owen Hughes, respectively, played an all-day match on the Club ground. R. H. B. Hancock is not starting his cricket until the coming week, which in view of his previous ill-fortune through the strain of beginning in the beastly hot weather of September, is very wise. He umpired throughout the day and probably got an even better look at our potential interport players than he would have done otherwise. The day was a pleasant one, though it clouded over in the afternoon and just after the game finished there was a smart shower of rain. The wicket was fairly fast but it obviously was taking a good deal of spin, while there was a brisk third-man breeze from the Naval Yard End. I gather the Yard had a holiday, but anyway the absence of the Naval chimney smoke was a pleasant feature.

The Play.

Pearce won the toss and opened (very punctually, I was glad to see) with O. G. Simpson to Beck at the Yard End, and Minu. A single to Pearce after four byes, and then a four to Simpson's credit over second slips head came in the first over. Minu might have caught the latter shot—and Owen Hughes certainly would, I think. Nothing much happened for an over, as Minu was very short but the batsmen failed to get him away. Soon, however, Beck dropped in a slower ball, and completely beat Simpson who patted it back into his hands.

Fincher's Luck.

E. F. Fincher succeeded and very early on should have been caught at second slip, but Minu failed to get at it in time. He then crashed a full toss to the boundary. After Minu had bowled three overs he was taken off. I understand he did not like the end and was short of practice, but he had seemed to be finding a length and to put a left hander into a trial game and then give him four overs out of fifty-one seems pretty stupid to me, and why he was on the same side as Owen Hughes when they both bowl, roughly speaking, the same sort of stuff, I simply cannot understand. (Apart from this one point, I think the sides were very skilfully arranged.)

Owen Hughes Bowls Well.

Pearce was all at sea with Owen Hughes, who was keeping a pretty good length and dropped him one swinging yorker which only just missed the leg peg. It went down as four byes but I believe Pearce actually snickered it. After some time Pearce opened up at the left hander and hit him four over mid-off's head, and for a big single all along the carpet. But Fincher in the same over tried to glance one that pitched on the sticks well up and straightened out, and was l.b.w.

Pearce was playing careful cricket, evidently bent on watching the ball and getting match practice. Madar, the new-comer, played some beautiful square cuts off short stuff on the off, but apart from that was not very inspiring as he has a way of hanging his bat out to dry in a flourishing forward stroke and letting the ball hit it, though I must admit he usually hung it in the right place. Burnett went on at the Yard end and proceeded to bowl excellently. I must confess it was a great surprise to me as on the few occasions I have seen him he has never approached his form on last Saturday. In his third (or perhaps fourth) over he had Madar dropped behind the sticks, after beating him clean with five balls, and next over Pearce cut out straight into second slips hands, who put it down. I am told there should have been a stumping the very next ball.

A Collapse.

However, after Duckitt had relieved Owen Hughes, and been punished a bit in his first overs, he sent down a beauty just on or outside the off peg, which turned in and chipped the balls to dismiss Pearce, who had been in an hour for 18—(or 22 really). Then wickets began to fly. Mitchell tried to turn one from Burnett which kicked (and anyone was too far up to turn) and gave a simple chance at short leg. Richardson crashed the next ball, a half-volley, for four through the covers but played outside the next with a cross bat and pulled it into his sticks. Madar let a straight one from Beck pitch on his toe, and Rigg, who was shaping alright at the fast and medium stuff, gave a tame chance in the slips of Owen Hughes who took the last over before tiffin.

A Last Wicket Stand.

After tiffin Pereira did nothing and Ride, who had been gathering a good few runs by hard but not always well timed shots, ran Lylal out badly. Reid slogged a bit, but after Owen Hughes had put one down in the deep, he took a much harder chance. (116-10-3.) So far things had not been too good, but it happened to be one of Goodwin's days, and he pursued serenely a high and lofty course, varied by being morally bowled twice an over until he had got thirty-six not out and Ride forty-four. Pearce then declared at 109 for 10 wickets. There seemed to be a good deal of criticism in the pavilion of Ride's innings as he was lifting them a bit without anything going to hand. But one can pick holes in most innings here, and if runs are made consistently, then style may be regarded as less important.

Owen Hughes' Side Bat.

When the next innings opened, there was a bit at a rot at the start thanks to Pereira, who was bowling very fast and very short, getting up in a dangerous way. He hit Duckitt badly on the hand with the fifth ball of his first over and had him taken at second slip off the sixth. Lylal at the other end was not bowling anything out of the way but kept just short of a length and was not easy to get away. Lim touched another long hop of Pereira's and Pearce took the chance, who shortly after he sent down a punch of a ball which turned in and took the top of Anderson's middle stick. One wishes he bowled more of these and fewer rib-roasters. After taking three for three (13-3-4) he went off, and E. C. Fincher and Griffiths proceeded to pull the situation round a bit. Rigg went on and proceeded to bowl so wildly that the batsmen quite failed to connect with any. At this point Griffiths should have been caught at mid-on when he had about five. A ball from Rigg kicked up and he sent a dolly chance to Richardson, but the latter was apparently going back at the time, and could not get moving to take it. After that Griffiths hit to leg very well and, following the Hong Kong fashion, all the bowlers bowled at his legs or his leg stump. I have never understood this. I could name half a dozen bats in Hong Kong who can no more make runs on the off than fill what the dollar will do next week. And does anyone peg away at their off-sticks, or just outside? Not on your life. Along comes the leg theory and batsman gets meretricious figures.

Slow Cricket.

Fincher had just come off the bat from the North and very wisely had a quiet hour and a half's match practice while scoring twenty-three before being bowled by an off break from Richardson at which he played back. He was very dull to watch. Goodwin, who had been bowling in and out stuff was lucky enough to have Pearce effect a brilliant catch within an inch or two of Griffiths' bat. After this, Owen Hughes played very free and attractive cricket, and got out forcing the game, as did Burnett, off whom Ride took a nicely judged catch.

Another Collapse.

Minu was bowled off his leg because he ran away to hit one on the leg side instead of standing up. Lylal swung at a yorker-cum-full-toss of Goodwin's and missed it, and then after Bowker had received one ball—and an extremely painful blow on the fingers)—Beck was caught by Pereira, at the second attempt, holding at backward point. (137-11-1.) Thus Pearce's side won by thirty-two runs.

Comment Deferred.

I propose to hold over all comment until Friday's Notes, partly because this article is quite long enough, and partly because I want to perpend a bit. The only thing I might mention here, to save possible heart-burnings, is that the whole of the Army people are coming for the trial next Saturday, which means about eleven places!

"DOUBLE-TENTH" OBSERVED.

MANY SOCIAL FUNCTIONS HELD.

"VARSITY" CELEBRATIONS.

China's National Day, or "Double Tenth," marking the 20th anniversary of the Chinese Republic, was observed by the Chinese community throughout the Colony on Saturday as a day of festivity.

Despite the fact that many sporting events timed to take place on the day were unavoidably cancelled, the holiday spirit was everywhere in evidence.

Among the many social functions held during the day were a reception by the members of the Chinese Club, and an "At Home" given by the Chinese members of the Sports Club to the non-Chinese members. Sung Wong Toi Hill, Kowloon City, was visited by the usual number of Chinese, who further observed the occasion by kite-flying and the firing of crackers.

At the University.

At 10 a.m. on Saturday, the Hong Kong Varsity students held a meeting in the Great Hall of the University. Before the meeting, a group photograph was taken in front of the Varsity Main Building. Among those present were several graduates, namely, Messrs. Chung Hok Nung (President of the Union 1930), Kwong Sik Kwong, Tam Yik-Fong, Kwan Yim Chor and Hu Pak Mi.

After the will of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen had been read by Mr. N. K. Law (Hon. Sec. of the Union), the audience made three bows before the portrait of Dr. Sun, and then kept two minutes' silence, which was followed by a speech given by the President of the Union (Mr. K. T. Loke).

Mr. Loke dwelt briefly on the significance of the day and on the great work of Dr. Sun. The National Anthem was sung, after which the President of the Union declared the meeting closed.

RESULTS OF ANNUAL ELECTION.

The annual general meeting of Eliot Hall, Hong Kong University, took place on Friday night, when Mr. Khoo Fung Yung presided. Among those present was Prof. W. Paid (the Warden). After the Hon. Sec. Downward movements of stock prices in Shanghai have in the last several days erased a large part of the gains made in August and early September. The A.O.F.C. Average has dropped by rather substantial amounts to 20.70 when only two weeks ago it was around the 25.00 peak. Market followers currently are nervous on their marginal commitments, and are seeking to high-ten their position. The threatened Japanese boycott will have the effect of putting a strain on the money situation for contracts will have to be met on imported goods whether there is a boycott or not. Some stocks have been supported well in the market, and such standard issues as Trans and Ewas have stood up well under the pressure of liquidation. The adjustment to strengthen positions by selling out marginal holdings seems to have progressed fairly well and offerings may lighten for a while. Some apprehension concerning the next settlement day, however, is still to be detected. The statistical record of the A.O.F.C. Average is as follows: January 1931 24.10 High for year September 10 28.69 Recent low point August 6 20.54 (October 6 20.70)

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

SENIOR DIVISION LEADERS SHARE THE POINTS WITH HUDDERSFIELD.

RANGERS WIN THE GLASGOW CUP BY DEFEATING QUEEN'S PARK IN FINAL GAME.

English League football matches played on Saturday had the effect of bringing Everton next to the leaders, West Bromwich Albion, who were forced to share the points with Huddersfield Town. Everton's victory was gained comfortably at Sheffield. Leicester lowered the colours of Sheffield Wednesday.

Stoke City, who beat the Wolves by the only goal of the match, took the leading place in the Second Division from Bury, who were defeated by Leeds United. Southend, in the Southern Section, drew for the fourth time this season, and they are still the only undefeated team in the League. Gateshead lost to the lowly-placed Wigan Boro' team, and conceded third place to Wrexham, Lincoln City and Southport remaining at the top.

Glasgow Rangers were successful in winning the Glasgow Cup and this engagement kept them away from the League. Motherwell strengthened their position with their tenth victory. Celtic and Kilmarnock were both out of luck, their opponents sharing in a division of the points. The Airdrieonians scored eight goals to two against Leith Athletic.

Full results of Saturday's matches and corrected League tables are appended.

WAR AGAINST JAPAN?

China's New Appeal.

GENEVA, Oct. 11. The Chinese Government has sent a new appeal to the League detailing the attack by Japanese aeroplanes on Chinchow on Oct. 8, asking the Council of the League to take urgent measures to safeguard peace and inviting a commission of enquiry from the League to come to Chinchow. Meanwhile, asking the members of the Council to secure information for themselves from the spot.

AMERICAN ATTITUDE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. President Hoover discussed the Manchuria problem at a meeting of the Cabinet, but no statement was issued. There are indications, however, that Government will seek to mobilise world opinion against further Sino-Japanese hostilities.

Mr. Stimson is giving the problem his whole attention, and the State Department, it is expected, will take action shortly.

While no definite information is available, it is explained that the Administration is not likely to make an active move against Japan as such a procedure would involve a sharp note to Japan.

Action When Convicted.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. The United States Government expects to take action in the Manchurian situation as soon as it is definitely convinced that the Chinese and Japanese pledges made to the League of Nations are not being fulfilled.

Both Governments Show Moderate Front.

LONDON, Oct. 11. Although obscured by the World's obsession by the financial and economic problems no diplomatic issue of recent years has been more disquieting than the Manchurian dispute, says the Observer. Not only will it test the League's efficiency in the case of big Powers, but it also has a direct bearing on the prospects of the Disarmament Conference. Both Governments have shown a moderate front, but both are assailed by extremists. The repercussions are such that the goodwill in Tokyo may produce civil war in Japan and the goodwill at Nanking may be misunderstood by Russia. In every aspect the problem bristles with danger.

If the League fails the Disarmament Conference will be damaged in advance.

Tension Increasing.

LONDON, Oct. 9. The dangerous race to which the Sino-Japanese relations in the Far East has arrived is fully realised in London. The continuance of Japanese Naval preparations, and the presence of Japanese warships in Shanghai and on the Yangtze have created a feeling of intense nervousness as to what may happen, and the latest despatches from the Far East showing that the tension is increasing has in no way diminished anxiety. A strong impression obtains that the Chinese Government is quite willing to abide by the League's decisions. In this connection, it is emphasised, in Chinese circles, that the Republic invites international examination of the present disturbed conditions, and stress is laid on the fact that the crisis was not reached by the murder of Capt. Nakamura, but the earlier massacres of Chinese by Koreans.

Well-informed Japanese circles, on the other hand, affirm that so far as the Japanese extending occupied area in Manchuria they are endeavouring to withdraw troops within the railway zone. It is pointed out that Japanese public opinion has been on edge for many months owing to China's attitude, and the intervention of the League would suggest that the Japanese view was not a credible one.

With the obstinate adherence of the conflicting parties to their own version of the events as indicated, it is obviously quite uncertain just what steps the Council will take when it meets next week.

AN ORPHAN CRAFT

BRITISH SUBMARINE IN SOVIET NAVY

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

RIGA, Oct. 9. The paradox of a Red flag being hoisted on a British submarine to the singing of the Internationale was witnessed at Leningrad to-day. It was the submarine 185 which was sunk in Kronstadt in 1919 and raised by the Bolsheviks in 1923. To-day the orphan craft was formally incorporated in the Soviet Navy after an impressive ceremony at which prominent Soviet Naval Officials made speeches.

MR. T. EDISON.

NOW LYING IN A STUPOR: A WEEK TO LIVE!

(REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.)

WEST ORANGE, New Jersey, Oct. 10. There is a new serious change in Mr. T. Edison's condition. He is now lying in a stupor. Doctors, however, are of the opinion that he may live another week.

INDIA COMMUNAL QUESTION.

NO DECISION YET REACHED.

(BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.)

RUMUR, Oct. 9. After a brief sitting the Federal Structure Committee of the Indian Round Table Conference, under the Chairmanship of Lord Chancellor Sankey, it was decided to adjourn until Tuesday when it will examine the unanimous report of the finance subcommittee. This will be followed by discussions on the Federal Court.

Lord Sankey, while expressing keen disappointment that the Minorities Committee had failed up to now to reach a final agreement, said he was not downhearted, for all were still determined that the Round Table Conference should continue its work.

As to the Minorities question he advised they should now concentrate on the method by which settlement was to be attained rather than on what the settlement should be. Sir Muhammad Shadi accepted the suggestion but Mr. Gandhi urged they should proceed at once with the Federal Structure Committee.

Sir Tej Sahra said that as Lord Sankey, owing to an official engagement, would be unable to attend the meeting on Monday, an adjournment until Tuesday was inevitable. Sir Zafrullah Khan also supported the suggestion.

LOYAL SERVANTS.

SCHEME TO REDUCE ROYAL HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, Oct. 10. According to the Daily Express 150 servants at Buckingham Palace have made a loyal gesture to His Majesty by instituting a scheme of saving by which household expenses will be effected.

Unknown to the King, Sir Ralph Harwood, the King's Deputy Treasurer, appealed to them to join the economies and suggested a scheme which would accord with the King's refusal when it was first decided to reduce the Civil List and consider reductions of servants' wages.

The servants unanimously agreed to receive a daily allowance for food money of 3/6 for men and 3/3 for women instead of meals hitherto provided.

It was then asked whether the extra staff who wait on the servants themselves at meals would be dismissed. Sir R. Harwood replied that the King would have nobody unemployed. The extra staff would be absorbed in other Departments.

It is understood that the servants are organising their own messes and doing their own cooking.

Many of the King's expenses are irreducible, especially contributions to charities, which the King refused to whittle down by one penny.
